By the Olive Branch, Captain ROBERTSON, from Cowes, we have the following Advices, viz.

LISBON, April 23.

SEVEN Eccleſiaſtics, among whom is the Cardinal Patriarch's Confeſſor, are committed to Priſon: It is ſuppoſed they are concerned in the Affair of the Prioreſs of the Monaſtery of the Holy Sacrament. The latter has likewiſe been condemned by a Mandate of the Archbiſhop of Evora.

LONDON, May 18.

Yeſterday Morning the Weavers aſſembled again, by Beat of Drum, in Spitalfields, to the Number, as ſuppoſed, of upwards of fifty thouſand, from whence they proceeded, in three large Bodies, to Weſtminſter. One Corps took the Route of Grace-Church Street, and London-Bridge, from whence they paſſed over St. George's-Fields. Another Corps marched along Ludgate-Hill, and the Strand; while the third proceeded by Way of Holbourn and Covent-Garden. When united again in Weſtminſter, the Crowd was ſo great, that the Members could ſcarce get to their reſpective Houſes. All Old-Palace-Yard, New-Palace-Yard, and the ſtreets adjoining, quite as far up as Weſtminſter-Bridge, were filled with theſe poor Petitioners, beſides Multitudes of others that were in the Park. Before them, in their March, Flags of various Colours were borne by the Women; particularly a French Silk Handkerchief, with a golden Border on it, and a Croſs of Gold in the Middle; a large Piece of French ſpotted Silk, ſaid to have been procured from the Shop of a Mercer in Town, and three or four Pieces of French Lace, &c. &c. The Men wore red Cockades and Shreds of Silk in their Hats. In Weſtminſter they ſtopped the Carriages of the Members, as they went to the Houſe, praying them to take Pity on the poor Weavers, but behaved in all other Reſpects with the greateſt good Order. To prevent any Tumult however, the Firſt Troop of Horſe-Guards, with a Party of Horſe-Grenadiers, and three Companies of the Foot-Guards, all under Arms, and headed by their proper Officers, were ordered from the Parade to Old-Palace-Yard, were they were drawn up in two Lines, before Weſtminſter-Hall, to clear the Paſſage for the Members to get to the Houſe. About Two o'Clock a Meſſage was delivered them from the Lords, ſignifying that they could not proceed to the Reconſideration of their Grievances, 'til next Seſſion, when every poſſible Step ſhould be taken for their Advantage. This not ſatisfying them, they continued ſtill aſſembled till near Four o'Clock, when being informed by their Heads, that Hand-Bills would be diſtributed this Day, which would allay all their Fears, and every other neceſſary Step be taken for their Advantage, they were recommended to ſeparate peaceably, and accordingly began their March home again, ſo that by Five the Streets round Weſtminſter-Hall were pretty well cleared of them. Sir John Fielding, and his Brother-Juſtices, had attended at the New Guild-Hall all the Time; at which Place there was alſo a Conference between the Chieftians of the Weavers, to the Number of about 400, their Maſters, and the Mercers, when it was agreed by the latter immediately to recal all their Contracts for foreign Goods, and to ſet the Journeymen inſtantly to work. But though this had ſo good an Effect, that it contributed, perhaps, more than any thing elſe to diſperſe them; yet in their Return they ſaid they ſhould not depend entirely upon Promiſes, and talked of getting the Watermen to join them, &c. A Body of them even went to Bloomſbury-Square, where they pulled down the Stone-Poſts, and Part of the Wall, before the Duke of Bedford's Houſe, with the Rails in the Road to Fig-Lane, beſides ploughing up the Ground in the Middle of the Square, and doing other Damage. Theſe Outrages being apprehended there, a Party of the Horſe-Guards had been added to the Foot, which had been placed there the Night before, but the Mob were ſo unruly, they tore up the very Pavement to ſupply them with Stones to pelt the Guards, in conſequence of which much Miſchief was done, many of the Soldiery were cut and wounded, and ſeveral of the People trampled down by the Horſes. Theſe Outrages continued a great Part of the Night.

Another Body went to Mr. Carr's, a Silk Mercer, on Ludgate-Hill, where they demoliſhed the Windows, broke the Lamps at the Door, and did other Miſchief. In Conſequence of this, between Seven and Eight o'Clock, the Lord-Mayor, attended by the Sheriffs, Recorder, City-Marſhal, and Sword-Bearer, with a Number of Peace-Officers, repaired to the Spot, but his Lordſhip was obliged to leave his Coach in St. Paul's Church Yard, from whence he proceeded on Foot to Mr. Carr's, when the Recorder told the Populace that unleſs they diſperſed, the Riot Act ſhould be read. His Lordſhip then repaired to the Globe-Tavern in Fleet-Street, and attended there with his Brethren for ſome Time, after which he returned about Ten o'Clock, in a Chair, to the Manſion-Houſe, his Coach being ſtill unable to paſs for the Mob.

About nine in the Evening a ſtrong Party of Horſe, with another of Foot, were drawn up before Mr. Carr's Houſe, but happily the Night paſſed without any further Diſorder.

A Court of Aldermen had previouſly met Yeſterday Evening, to conſult on proper methods for preventing the ill Conſequences, that might ariſe from ſo large a Body of People daily aſſembling; a Party of the Guards from the Tower, did Duty all Thurſday Night in Moorfields; another Party had been ſent for the ſame Night to Spitalfields, on account of the Mob breaking the Windows there of ſome Maſter Weavers, who were reported to have had French Silks in their Houſes, particularly of one in Princeſs-ſtreet, whoſe Windows were entirely demoliſhed from the Top to the Bottom.

At Six this Morning, a ſtrong Party of the Guards, attended by a great Number of Conſtables, Headboroughs, &c. marched from Hicks's Hall to Moorfields, to be in readineſs againſt any further Riots, it having been rumoured that the Sailors, Hatters, and others, were to have joined them. But we have the Satisfaction of hearing, that all is as yet, quiet, though they talk of going up again on Tueſday next, in a larger Body, when it is not doubted, but that Meaſures will be taken for their Relief.

Their principal Orator on moſt of theſe Occaſions was one Jones, a Welchman. This Perſon received the Meſſage on Thurſday laſt, at St. James's from the Earl of Northumberland, after which he drew his Brethren off to the Green-Park, and like another Ket, ſignified his Majeſty's Pleaſure from a Tree. Yeſterday alſo he made a long Harangue to them in Old-Palace-Yard, perſuading them to diſperſe, and ſeems to conduct himſelf with a good Deal of Modeſty and Decorum.

On Thurſday laſt, when the Weavers went down to the Houſe of Lords, a noble Perſonage, on the Reception of a Letter given him in his Chariot, drove with the greateſt Precipitation, under the Gate at the Horſe-Guards, into St. James's Park, in order to avoid the Fury of the Populace, otherwiſe, it is imagined, the Conſequence might have been fatal.

May 21. Sunday his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland was at Court, and had near an Hour's private Audience of his Majeſty, from whence he proceeded to Hayes, the Seat of the Right Hon. William Pitt, and on his Return to Windſor waited upon his Majeſty at Richmond.

It is now certain that many Changes in the Miniſtry will very ſoon take Place, but nothing ſeems as yet fixed. Among others the following are talked of.

Duke of Newcaſtle, Lord Preſident of the Council.
Earl of Northumberland, Firſt Lord of the Treaſury.
Charles Townſhend, Eſq; Chancellor of the Exchequer.
General Conway, Secretary at War.
George Onſlow, Eſq; one of the Lords of the Admiralty.
Mr. Pitt and Mr. Oſwald, Secretaries of State.
Lord Holland, to be created an Earl.

But notwithſtanding the above, it is confidently aſſerted, that Mr. Pitt has abſolutely declined having any Share in the Adminiſtration.

A freſh Draught from the Train of Artillery is ordered for New York, to be employed in immediate Service there.

By the KING, A PROCLAMATION, for the ſuppreſſing of Riots, Tumults, and unlawful Aſſemblies.

GEORGE R.

Whereas it has been repreſented to Us by an Addreſs of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament aſſembled, that a tumultuous and riotous Mob of ſeveral Thouſand idle and diſorderly Perſons, arrayed under Banners, and directed by Leaders, aſſembled at the Houſe of Lords on the 15th, 16th and 17th Days of this Inſtant, to the Terror and Danger of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament aſſembled, in Breach of the Privilege, and in Violation of the Freedom of Parliament, and that the Perſons ſo aſſembled, or a great Number of them, riotouſly, and in open Violation of the Laws, aſſaulted and endangered the Life of his Grace the Duke of Bedford, in his Return from the Houſe of Lords, beſet his Grace's Houſe in Bloomſbury Square, and would probably have committed the moſt enormous Outrages there, had they not been prevented by a Military Force aſſiſting the Civil Magiſtrates, as Part of the Poſſe Comitatus.

We, taking the ſame into Our moſt ſerious Conſideration, and being reſolved to ſuppreſs all ſuch tumultuous Riots and Diſorders, tending to the Diſturbance of the publick Peace, and to the Endangering of all Order and Government, have thought fit, by and with the Advice of Our Privy Council, to iſſue this Our Royal Proclamation, hereby ſtrictly charging and commanding the Lord Mayor, and the Juſtices of the Peace of Our City of London, and the Juſtices of the Peace of Our City and Liberties of Weſtminſter, and Borough of Southwark, and of the Counties of Middleſex and Surry, that they do uſe their utmoſt Endeavours to prevent and ſuppreſs all Riots, Tumults and unlawful Aſſemblies, and to put in due and ſtrict Execution the Laws and Statutes made for preventing, and for the more ſpeedy and effectual ſuppreſſing and puniſhing the ſame; and that all Our loving Subjects be aiding and aſſiſting therein.

Given at our Court at St. James's, the 21ſt Day of May, 1765, in the Fifth Year of our Reign.

GOD Save the KING.

Extract of a Letter from Paris, May 13.

"They are at Work with the utmoſt Diligence in the different Ports of this Kingdom, on the Conſtruction of Men of War and Frigates, and a great Number of Seamen are raiſing, to reſtore our Marine to its antient Luſtre."

We are aſſured that His Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland has not been at Windſor for theſe ten Days paſt, and during that Period, has ſcarce ſlept four Hours of a Night; His Highneſs having been indefatigable in endeavouring to ſettle the great and important Affair of the Miniſtry; a Circumſtance which muſt endear him to all true Engliſhmen.

May 25. A new Writ is iſſued out, for electing a Member for Harwich, in the Room of the Right Hon. Charles Townſhend, appointed Paymaſter General of His Majeſty's Forces, in the Room of Lord Holland.

The following Promotions are now talked of, viz.
Duke of York, to be Lord High Admiral.
Lord Temple, Privy Seal. And
The Duke of Marlborough, to have the vacant Garter.

By the Duke of Cumberland Packet, Captain Goodridge, arrived at New-York from Falmouth, we have the following Advices.

WESTMINSTER, May 25.

THIS day his Majeſty came to the Houſe of Peers, and being in his Royal Robes ſeated on the Throne with the uſual ſolemnity, Sir Septimus Robinſon, Knt. Gentleman Uſher of the Black Rod, was ſent with a meſſage from his Majeſty to the Houſe of Commons, commanding their attendance in the Houſe of Peers. The Commons being come thither accordingly, his Majeſty was pleaſed to give the royal aſſent to the ſeveral bills which were ready.

After which his Majeſty was pleaſed to make the following moſt gracious Speech.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

THE diſpatch which you have given with ſo much zeal and wiſdom to the public buſineſs, enables me now to put a period to this ſeſſion of parliament.

No alteration in the ſtate of foreign affairs has happened ſince your meeting, to diſturb the general peace; and it is with pleaſure that I inform you, that the preſent diſpoſitions of the ſeveral powers of Europe promiſe the continuance of this bleſſing.

I have ſeen, with the moſt perfect approbation, that you have employed this ſeaſon of tranquility, in promoting thoſe objects which I had recommended to your attention, in framing ſuch regulations as may beſt inforce the juſt authority of the Legiſlature, and, at the ſame time, ſecure and extend the commerce, and unite the intereſts of every part of my dominions.

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

The chearfulneſs and prudence which you have ſhewn in providing for the neceſſary expences of the preſent year, deſerve my particular acknowledgments. The many bills which you have formed for the improvement and augmentation of the revenue in its ſeveral branches, and the early care which you have taken to diſcharge a part of the national debt, are the moſt effectual methods to eſtabliſh the public credit upon the ſureſt foundations, and to alleviate, by degrees, the burthens of my people.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

The proviſions which have been made for the adminiſtration of the Government, in caſe the Crown ſhould deſcend to any of my children under the age of eighteen years, whilſt they add ſtrength and ſecurity to our preſent eſtabliſhment, give me the kindeſt and moſt convincing proof of your confidence: The ſenſe which I have of the important truſt repoſed in me, and my deſire to repay this mark of your affection, by diſcharging my part agreeably to your intentions, in the manner moſt beneficial to my people, have concurred to make me execute, without delay, the powers with which you have entruſted me. This is already done; and you may be aſſured, that as far as it depends upon me, thoſe ſalutary proviſions ſhall never be ineffectual. It is my ardent wiſh, and it ſhall be my conſtant endeavour, on this, and every other occaſion, to perpetuate the happineſs of my ſubjects, and to tranſmit to poſterity the bleſſings of our invaluable conſtitution."

Then the Lord Chancellor, by his Majeſty's command, prorogued the Parliament to Thurſday, the 11th of July next.

LONDON.

May 28. This day at noon his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland was at St. James's for upwards of an hour, in conference with his Majeſty.

It is now confidently aſſerted, that neither Mr. Pitt or Lord Temple are to aſſume any ſhare in the public adminiſtration of affairs.

A report now prevails, that no changes will be made for the preſent, in any of the departments of Secretaries of State.

Lord Bute, it is ſaid, has declined accepting any office at Court.

The Right Hon. Lord Lyttleton is now confidently talked of, to ſucceed to the Office of Chancellor of the Exchequer.

May 30. Notwithſtanding the frequent reports to the contrary, it is ſtill thought many things are to be ſettled previous to Mr. Pitt's engaging in any of the high departments of State.

The Right Hon. Lord Sandwich, we are now aſſured, is to continue at the head of the Admiralty Board.

In ſome recent advices from Madrid, the Spaniards are ſaid publickly to boaſt, that the Manillas and the Havannah, two of their moſt important ſettlements in the Eaſt and Weſt-Indies, are now rendered impregnable; no leſs than 4,500,000 dollars having been expended in carrying on the the new works in the capital of Cuba, beſides the expence of ſhip-building, ſince the late treaty of Verſailles.

We hear advice has this week been received, that preparations have for ſome weeks paſt been making by the French to erect ſome additional fortifications at Dunkirk, towards the land ſide.

St. James's, May 29. His Majeſty in Council was this day pleaſed to declare the Right Hon. Thomas Viſcount Weymouth, Lieutenant-General and General-Governor of his Majeſty's kingdom of Ireland.

Whitehall, June 1. The King has been pleaſed to appoint the Right Hon. Frederick Campbell, commonly called Lord Frederick Campbell, to be Keeper of his Majeſty's Privy Seal of Scotland, in the room of the Right Hon. James Stuart Mackenzie.

LONDON, June 4. It is ſaid the Duke of York intends to viſit the Court of Berlin before he returns to England.

Letters received at Briſtol from Senegal adviſe, that the Hound ſloop of war had been diſpatched, by Commodore Graves, to inſpect into what the French are doing at Cape Verd; an account having been received, that they had built ſeveral houſes, erected a fortification, and in all appearance would ſoon have a very flouriſhing ſettlement there, as that part of the African coaſt abounds with ebony, gums, ivory, and other valuable articles of commerce.

June 8. This morning there was a very grand levee of the Nobility and Gentry at York-Houſe, to take leave of his Royal Highneſs the Duke of York, who ſet out for Harwich exactly at half an hour paſt eleven in the forenoon.

Some letters, brought by the Boſcawen Eaſt Indiaman, ſay, that the French have lately erected ſome ſtrong fortifications on the Iſland of Mauritius in Bourbon.

June 11. It is ſaid their Majeſties will dine with his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland, at Windſor Lodge, this day.

Letters yeſterday from Liſbon, of the 10th ult. import, that diſpatches of the greateſt importance were arrived there from the Court of France; but the contents were not then made public.

June 13. They write from Turkey, that the late Grand Vizir had been beheaded, for not ſtifling the rebellion in Georgia in its infancy.

We are informed that a bill of exceptions againſt the verdict obtained in behalf of Mr. Wilkes, Mr. Dryden Leach, and others, in the Court of Common-Pleas, is to be argued on Friday next, in the Court of King's Bench, Weſtminſter.

They write from Stockholm, that the French Ambaſſador at that Court, is employed in negociating the renewal of the old ſubſidy treaty between the Courts of France and Sweden.

They write from Conſtantinople of the 2d ult. that the Ottoman Porte was continually ſending all manner of military ſtores and troops croſs the Black-Sea into Georgia, to be employed in quelling the rebellion in that country.

By letters from Turkey, by way of Marſeilles, there is an account, that the plague made a terrible havock at Conſtantinople, Smyrna, and other parts of that extenſive empire, and ſwept off a great number of people, which was a great hindrance to trade and commerce at this time of the year.

They adviſe from Amſterdam, that the late embarkation of the French for their new ſettlement near Surinam, begins now to be looked upon as a very ſerious affair.

The Spaniſh ſhip taken at the Havannah, and now lying at Erith, is the largeſt that ever entered the river Thames.

BOSTON, July 22.

By Captain Philips, who arrived here laſt Friday, in 15 Days from Newfoundland, we learn, that there are four Engliſh Men of War, and two French, on that Station, for the Protection of Trade; and that one of the Tenders belonging to the former, going into St. Peters, had taken three Engliſh Veſſels, and 8 or 9 French Shallops trading there, under the Mouth of the Cannon of one of the French Men of War, lying at Anchor there, which they ordered out of the Harbour immediately, on Pain of being made a lawful Prize, agreeable to the Treaty ſtipulated.----We alſo learn, that the greater Part of the French Bills drawn there, had come back proteſted.

NEWPORT, July 22.

The Captains Dupuy and Weeden arrived ſince our laſt, in five Weeks from Cayenne, who kept Company during the whole of their outward and homeward bound Paſſages to and from that Place. They bring Advice, that the Endeavours of the French to eſtabliſh a Settlement to Leeward of Cayenne, had proved ineffectual, owing to the Prevalence of a contagious Diſtemper among the Settlers, of which, it was ſaid, 10 or 15000 had died, and the Remainder were moving off. The Cauſe aſſigned for this great Mortality, was the Diſſimilarity of the Climate to that of their own Country.

PHILADELPHIA, Auguſt 1.

Extract of a Letter from a Member of Parliament in England, to a Friend in America, dated London, June 7, 1765.

-----"As to the Stamp Act, I oppoſed it, as I declared it my Intention to do all internal Taxes; not becauſe the People of America were unrepreſented in Parliament, and therefore not conſtitutionally taxable; I well know that much the greater Part of the Inhabitants of Great-Britain have no Votes in the Election of Members, and that a great Part even of the Land in this Country gives no Share in the Choice of the Legiſlature, yet all are taxable, and muſt be ſo neceſſarily; for the whole of our Statute Law would fall to the Ground, if the Conſent of all bound by the Laws contained in it was neceſſary to the making a Law.

"But I have argued, that the Parliament may chooſe whether they will tax America or not; that they have a Right, conſtitutionally, to tax Ireland, yet do not exerciſe that Right; that I ſhould think our Liberties endangered by their doing ſo; that I have the ſame Objections, and ſome ſtronger, againſt their taxing America; that it is not neceſſary; there are other Ways of raiſing all the Money there, requiſite for public Service; that ſuch Ways have not yet failed, but the Colonies have in general ſhewed the utmoſt Alacrity to contribute to the Common Cauſe; that if two or three have not done their Duty, it is hard all ſhould ſuffer for the Fault of two or three; that I think therefore there are the ſtrongeſt Reaſons why, admitting that the Parliament is the univerſal unlimited Legiſlature of the Britiſh Dominions, as it undoubtedly is, it ſhould yet voluntarily ſet Bounds to the Exerciſe of its Power; and that if the Majority of Parliament think they ought not to ſet theſe Bounds, then they ſhould give a Share of the Election of the Legiſlature to the American Colonies; that they have done ſo formerly to much leſs conſiderable Parts of the Britiſh Dominions; that without doing ſo, I ſhall think the Liberties of America in Danger, and the Liberties of Great-Britain too; that the former cannot be injured, without Danger to the latter; I do not ſay the Liberty of America will be loſt, merely in the having no Share in the Election of Members, but I mean it will want the Means it now has, and that every other Part of the Britiſh Dominions has, to defend itſelf againſt the Oppreſſions of the Officers of the Crown, in caſe Aſſemblies ſhould be rendered uſeleſs, or little neceſſary, which, however, I thank God, they are not yet."

A Gentleman in Penſacola writes his Correſpondent here, that he might aſſure his Friends the Spaniards would certainly very ſoon take Poſſeſſion of New Orleans, Monſieur Aubrey, Governor of that Place, having wrote to Governor Johnſton to that Effect.

We gratefully acknowledge the obliging Diſpoſition already ſhewn by the Public to encourage our Undertaking of the Rum Diſtillery, and venture to hope for the further Continuance of their Favour, in carrying on a Scheme of ſuch apparent Utility to the Trade of the Province; more eſpecially at a Juncture when the Neceſſity, as well as Advantage, of promoting our own Manufactures, is become ſo very apparent. It is with ſingular Satisfaction we find our Hopes ſo fully anſwered, by the general Approbation given our Rum for its ſuperior Quality; and we are determined to ſupport its Character, ſhould our Profits be ever ſo ſmall. Some Obſtacles that hitherto prevented our diſtilling ſo faſt as expected being removed, the Buſineſs of the Diſtillery is now carried on by us in the moſt extenſive Manner, by which Means, having a conſtant Stock of Rum on Hand, our Friends, either in this or the neighbouring Provinces, may depend on being always well ſupplied. Importers of Melaſſes may depend on conſtant Purchaſes of the ſame, for which we ſhall always allow the Philadelphia Prices, or be willing to contract with Gentlemen inclined to import Melaſſes, before their Veſſels go out.

"It was ſome Time ago reported, that the Court of London had made a Complaint to ours of the Sieur Poucet de la Riviere, Governor of the Iſle of Goree, which was likely to occaſion the Recal of that Officer. Whatever may have been the Cauſe, we juſt now learn from Rochfort, that that Governor, who has been ſucceeded by the Chevalier de Menager, arrived there the 5th of this Month, and as he was making Preparations to ſet out the next Day for this City, was arreſted by his Majeſty's Command."

Abſtract of an ACT to provide for the Adminiſtration of Government, in caſe the Crown ſhould deſcend to any of the Children of his Majeſty, being under the age of 18 years; and for the Care and Guardianſhip of their Perſons.

THE preamble to this act mentions, that in conſequence of a tender concern in his Majeſty for his faithful ſubjects, and anxious deſire to provide for every poſſible event which may affect their happineſs or ſecurity, in regard to the adminiſtration of the Government, as ſet forth in his Majeſty's ſpeech; it is therefore enacted, that power be veſted in his Majeſty of appointing from time to time, by three inſtruments under his ſign manual, a guardian to his ſucceſſor, in caſe the Crown ſhall deſcend to any of his children being under the age of 18 years. Such guardian is to have the care and management of the tuition of the perſon of ſuch minor, and to execute the office of Regent of the kingdom; and to be either the Queen, or Princeſs Dowager of Wales, or one of the deſcendants of the late King, uſually reſiding in Great-Britain.

A number in ſucceſſion, by way of ſubſtitution, in caſe of death, may be nominated to ſucceed in the guardianſhip and regency; but no more than one perſon may act as ſuch at one time; and any ſuch perſons are diſqualified to act as guardians and regents by non-reſidence, or by marrying a papiſt.

The inſtruments of nomination are to be ſealed with the King's ſeal; and the ſeals of the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, Lord Chancellor, and Preſident of the Council; and to be ſeverally depoſited with them: But upon the revocation or alteration of ſuch inſtruments by the King, or death of any of the depoſitaries, they are to be delivered up; as likewiſe in caſe of removal of any of the ſaid Officers of State; and on the demiſe of the King, during ſuch minority, the Privy Council is to aſſemble, and the ſaid inſtruments are to be there produced and read.

A perſon guilty of opening any of the ſaid inſtruments, without his Majeſty's order, or refuſing to deliver up the ſame to the Privy Council, incurs the penalties of premunire.

One of the inſtruments being produced, is deemed effectual to give authority to the perſon nominated Regent: And all acts of regal power, done otherwiſe than by conſent and authority of the Regent, are declared void.

The Council of Regency for aſſiſting the Regent is to conſiſt of their Royal Highneſſes his Majeſty's brothers, Edward Auguſtus, Duke of York and Albany, William Henry, Duke of Glouceſter and Edinburgh, Prince Henry Frederick, and Prince Frederick William, and his Royal Highneſs his Majeſty's Uncle William Auguſtus, Duke of Cumberland (the ſaid Prince Henry Frederick, and Prince Frederick William, to be Members of the ſaid Council of Regency, when they ſhall reſpectively attain the age of 21 years, and not ſooner) and alſo of the perſons and Officers following, viz. the Archbiſhop of Canterbury for the time being; the Lord Chancellor or Lord Keeper, or the firſt Commiſſioner named in any Commiſſion for the cuſtody of the Great Seal of Great Britain for the time being; the Lord Treaſurer of Great Britain, or the firſt Commiſſioner in that office for the time being; the Lord Preſident of the Council for the time being; the Lord Privy Seal for the time being; the Lord High Admiral of Great Britain, or the firſt Commiſſioner for executing that office; the two principal Secretaries of ſtate for the time being; and the Lord Chief Juſtice of the Court of King's or Queen's Bench for the time being. But if any of the King's brothers, or his uncle, ſhall die, during his Majeſty's reign, or ſhall be nominated Regent on his demiſe; his Majeſty, by three inſtruments under his ſign manual, ſealed and depoſited as aforeſaid, and revocable at pleaſure, may appoint ſome other perſon to be of the Council; and ſuch inſtruments of nomination are to be produced unopened to the Privy Council.

The Council is to meet as the Regent ſhall direct, and five (where it is not otherwiſe ſpecially provided) may act.

An oath of office is to be taken by the Regent; and by each Member of the Council, to be adminiſtered by the Privy Council, and entered in the Council books; and the Regent and Council are to qualify themſelves as for offices and places of truſt; the Regent taking and ſubſcribing the oaths and declaration before the Privy Council; and receiving the Sacrament in one of the Royal Chapels.

Upon his Majeſty's demiſe, during the minority of his ſucceſſor, the Privy Council is to meet, and cauſe ſuch ſucceſſor to be proclaimed, purſuant to act 12 Will. III. upon pain of incurring the penalties of high treaſon. The conſent of the majority of five or more of the Council is neceſſary to make good all creations, pardons, gifts, grants, diſpoſitions, inſtructions, orders, or authorities. The Regent is diſabled to make war or peace; to ratify treaties; or to prorogue, adjourn, or diſſolve the Parliament, without the conſent of the majority of the Council. Nor may the Regent give the royal aſſent to any act for altering the ſucceſſion to the Crown, as eſtabliſhed by act 12 Will. III. or for repealing or altering the act of 13 Charles II. or of 5 Anne. Members who are appointed of the Council, in virtue of their dignity or office, are to be no longer of the Council, than they continue in ſuch dignity or office. Great Officers of State appointed of the Council, are to continue in their offices, in caſe of the deſcent of the Crown during ſuch minority for ſix months after, unleſs removed by conſent of the majority of the Council; or upon addreſs of both Houſes of Parliament. The Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and Lord Chief Juſtice of the King's Bench, may be removed in like manner, from the Council; as alſo any other Members, who are not conſtituted ſuch in virtue of their dignities or offices. Vacancies in the Council, by removal, death, or reſignation, or by ſucceeding to the office of Regent, or by death of the King's younger brothers, being under age, are to be filled up within two months by the Regent and Council. Nothing herein contained ſhall take away the rights of the Privy Council; but the Regent is impowered to ſummon and hold the ſame as uſual; and Members of the Regency may be alſo of the Privy Council.

Upon deſcent of the Crown to a minor, the Parliament then in being is to continue for three years, unleſs ſuch ſucceſſor ſhall be ſooner of age, or ſuch parliament be diſſolved by the Regent, with conſent of the Council; but if there ſhall be no Parliament then in being, which ſhall have met and ſat, the preceding Parliament is to convene, and ſit for three years, except as before excepted.

The ſucceſſor to the Crown, being a minor, is not to be married during ſuch minority, without conſent of the Regent and Council, on pain of the marriage being void, and the perſons concerned therein incurring the penalty of high treaſon.

In caſes of an equality of voices in the Council, the Regent is to decide.

Where the conſent of a majority, or one half part of the Council, is made neceſſary to the validity of any act, the Members conſenting thereto are to ſign the ſame in the Council books. The Clerk of the Council is to be appointed by the Regent, and take an oath of office.

All commiſſions, letters patent, orders, &c. to ſet aſide, or change, the form of government ſettled by this act, during the minority of the ſucceſſor, are declared void; and the perſons concerned therein incur the penalties of premunire, inflicted by the ſtatute of premunire."

BENDERBUCHER (in the Perſian Gulph) Feb. 12.

WE have a report here, that the Engliſh have gained a compleat victory over the army of the Great Mogul and Coſſim Aly Cawn, the depoſed Nabob of Bengal. This army was compoſed of upwards of 120,000 Indians, and that of the Engliſh, it is ſaid, conſiſted but of 3000 Europeans. The former were obliged to abandon their Camp, their artillery, and all their tents and baggage, and likewiſe an immenſe treaſure, to the conquerors.

May 4. They write from Gibraltar, that the late apprehenſions of a defect in the uſual ſupply of proviſions from the Barbary ſhore are removed; and that the Dey of Algiers had ordered all due honours of the flag to be rendered to his Majeſty's ſhips of war in the Mediterranean.

May 11. The report of three perſonages of the firſt diſtinction being about ſoon to embark for North-America, to enquire into the cauſe of certain diſputes and grievances ſubſiſting in that country, is without foundation.

May 14. Information has been ſent to the Admiralty Office, that on the 15th of laſt month, the ſhip Charleſtown, of Charleſtown, in South Carolina, whereof Robert Mills was Maſter, bound to Cowes, in the Iſle of Wight, with a cargo of rice, ſtruck upon the rocks of Brehar, one of the Scilly Iſlands, and was loſt; that the crew with difficulty preſerved their lives; and that part of the cargoe and materials of the ſhip are ſaved.

May 16. They write from Peterſburgh, that all their advices from Conſtantinople bring an account of the firm reſolution of the Porte to maintain a good underſtanding with Poland, and all the neighbouring States.

Letters from Genoa, of the 22d ult. bring advice, that great preparations were making there for the reception of the Infanta of Spain, intended conſort to the Arch-Duke Leopold of Auſtria, who is expected to arrive there from Barcelona about the 28th of the next month.

We are informed that the poor about Hereford, and in ſeveral other parts of the country, are at this time ſo diſtreſſed, by the extravagant price of Bread and proviſions, that they are frequently obliged to eat grains.

Extract of a letter from Conſtantinople, April 1.

"The Grand Vizir Muſtapha, who was depoſed the 28th ult. had incurred the diſpleaſure of the Grand Signior to ſuch a degree, that his papers and effects are ſealed up; all his officers and domeſticks in priſon; and he is baniſhed to one of the iſlands of the Archipelago. The Secretary of State and ſeveral other Miniſters are involved in his diſgrace, and confined in the Seven Towers. The attention to the troubles of Georgia is redoubled, we therefore ſuppoſe the depoſed Vizir neglected the proper means to put an end to them, and thereby gave the mutineers opportunity to ſtrengthen themſelves to ſuch a point, that the affair, which, in its origin, was trifling, is now become very ſerious, and likely to give the Porte much trouble.

May 18. They write from Peterſburgh, that the Marquis de Bauſſet, the new French Miniſter, appears very ſolicitous to obtain a monopoly in favour of his maſter's ſubjects in the Ruſſian fur, ſalt-petre, and iron trades; the two firſt of which are almoſt wholly ingroſſed by his Pruſſian Majeſty; and that Sir George M'Cartney was negociating a ſcheme of the ſame nature, in favour of England.

We have the pleaſure to hear, that his Majeſty has ſignified, that it would be highly pleaſing to him, if the Nobility would follow his example, in wearing nothing but what is of Engliſh Manufacture.

May 21. They write from Paris, that the Court of France hath entertained thoughts of forming a ſettlement near Truxillo, on the Spaniſh continent of America, in return for New Orleans, lately added to the Catholic King.

We hear a perſonage of the firſt diſtinction will ſoon appear at the head of a liſt of voluntary ſubſcribers, who are determined to diſcountenance the wearing of any French ſilks or other commodities which interfere with, or tend to diſcourage, the manutures of their own country.

On Friday laſt a perſonage of very high diſtinction, as he was going to the Parliament-houſe, not chuſing, it is apprehended, to put himſelf under the protection of the guards, which were drawn up to prevent any outrages among the Weavers, ordered his chariot to Abingdon Buildings, where he came out, and walked through the thickeſt ranks of thoſe unfortunate poor fellows, who, charmed with his ſpirit, and the confidence which he repoſed in them, huzza'd him the whole way, and offered up the warmeſt wiſhes for his happineſs, and that of his illuſtrious family.

The Board of Trade, held on Thurſday night, was on the moſt ſpeedy and effectual meaſures to be taken to ſuppreſs the further Importation of foreign Manufactures, till a total removal of this national grievance can be obtained next ſeſſions.

A number of notices were ſtuck up on Saturday night, by order of his Majeſty's commiſſioners of lieutenancy, requiring all perſons liable to bear arms in the City, to appear perſonally, or by ſubſtitute, at beat of drum, in caſe of any future diſturbance, which notices were left Yeſterday at every houſekeeper's.

Yeſterday morning a party of the guards were ordered to be in readineſs on the Parade, to ſuppreſs any riots, or remove obſtructions to the Peers in paſſing to and from the houſe; but no diſturbance happened.

Yeſterday a party of the Foot-Guards from the Tower continued on duty in Moorefields, but every thing remained quiet.

A great number of horſe and foot guards are quartered about the New Road, Bethnal Green, and other parts, in order to be ready on ſhort notice, to march out, if the weavers ſhould aſſemble in a riotous manner again.

Several thouſand weavers from Norwich, and other large trading towns, in the ſame miſerable diſtreſſed ſituation as their brethren in Spitalfields, arrived on Sunday in Town, in order to petition for relief.

A large number of double-handed ſaws are getting ready to be ſhipped for Nova-Scotia, on account of the bounty to be granted on the importation of American plank and timber into this kingdom.

We are aſſured that the laſt propoſal of the French Court, regarding the payment of Canada bills, has not been accepted.

A body of the horſe-guards attended all this day at Moorefields, to be ready, if the Weavers ſhould aſſemble there together again.

We hear that this morning eleven of the journeymen Weavers, deputed from the whole body, went down to Weſtminſter, as by the act relative to tumultuous aſſemblies, it is deemed a riot if twelve perſons meet together; in this inſtance the poor Weavers very prudently endeavoured not to be deemed rioters, by ſending a leſs number.

It is now ſaid the approaching miniſterial changes will produce a change alſo of certain Britiſh Ambaſſadors, and others his Majeſty's ſervants at foreign Courts, in order to give due influence to ſome ſpirited meaſures, we are informed, will moſt certainly be adopted, ſhould this deſirable political revolution take place.

This morning upwards of thirty coaches with coronets ſet out on the rout for the Temples of Liberty at Stowe and Hayes, from which, it is conjectured, ſome very important turn in the affairs of that Goddeſs is now on the carpet.

Yeſterday ſome of the moſt conſiderable of the maſter ſilk weavers in Spitalfields waited upon the Right Hon. the Earl of Northumberland, Mr. Legrand, in Spring-Gardens, and other patriotick Noblemen and Gentlemen; when they received very encouraging hopes, that every thing in the power of the legiſlature would be done towards a redreſs of their grievances, and promoting the intereſt of the Britiſh ſilk manufactures. Since which, matters have been quiet among the journeymen weavers.

May 23. Tueſday the Weavers, who were expected again to aſſemble, continued quiet. Proper precautions were taken to prevent their joining and marching in bodies, by placing a ſtrong guard in the following manner: Two troops of horſe were drawn up in Moorefields in order of battle, with colours, ſtandards, &c. in the center was a battalion of the guards; they continued under arms all day: A troop of horſe was ſtationed at the foot of London-bridge, to prevent their paſſing that way; and another troop of horſe did duty at the foot of Weſtminſter-bridge.

The ſame morning a large detachment of the foot-guards, joined by a party of horſe, and horſe-grenadier-guards, were drawn up under arms in St. James's Park, to prevent any riots or obſtructions to the Members or Peers paſſing or repaſſing to and from the houſe; but every thing continued in perfect tranquility.

Some of the current reports of Yeſterday were, that his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland will be created Captain-general of the land forces in Great-Britain;

It is alſo ſaid that Earl Temple and Mr. Pitt have declined the Secretaryſhip; Lord Lyttleton is talked of to be firſt Lord of the Treaſury; George Grenville, Eſq; Chancellor of the Exchequer; Lord Northington, Preſident of the Council; Hon. Charles Yorke, Lord Chancellor, and Sir Joſeph Yorke, Secretary at War.

They write from Madrid, that orders have been ſent to provide ſufficient tranſports at Barcelona, to embark one of the regiments of Catalans for the Spaniſh garriſon of Ceuta, in Barbary, advice having been received, that the Emperor of Morocco was forming ſome hoſtile deſigns againſt that fortreſs.

It is ſaid alſo, that the Pruſſian army in Sileſia is conſiderably reinforced.

We are told that ſeveral great Commoners will be ennobled ſoon after the riſing of Parliament; among others, it is ſaid, that the gallant Sir William Johnſon will be raiſed to the dignity of a Viſcount of Ireland.

We are aſſured that the reaſon of the Right Hon. William Pitt, Eſq; refuſing to come into the adminiſtration again, is purely on account of his uncertain ſtate of health.

It is ſaid there certainly will be ſome changes, but not ſo many as has been talked of.

May 27. Several government cutters are now fitting out at Chatham and Portſmouth, to be ſtationed in the rivers Senegal and Gambia, to prevent any foreign private traders from carrying on a commerce with the natives in thoſe parts.

A letter from Toulon, May 4. "The two frigates and bomb-ketches are juſt gone after the ſhips which lately failed from hence. The general rendezvous of the ſquadron is to be at Cadiz, and it is ſaid to be deſtined to bombard the fortifications which the Salletines have erected in the iſle of Fedal. The rapid progreſs which the marine of thoſe pirates has made within theſe few years, muſt neceſſarily give uneaſineſs to the commercial ſtates of Europe; and unhappily every thing ſtill concurs to increaſe their power, by the prizes they make daily, by the ſailors being obliged, from miſery and bad treatment, to enliſt in their ſervice; and (more than all the reſt) by the ſuccours given them by Chriſtian powers, in order to keep peace with them. Before 1755, the Salletines were no ways formidable; they could only fit out ſmall corſairs, mounting four or ſix guns; and their cruizes did not extend beyond the Mediterranean; but ſince that epocha, the great earthquake of Liſbon being alſo felt on the coaſts of Barbary, the bar of Sallee is open, and has left there near twenty-four feet water, which makes it eaſy for ſhips of any ſize to go in and out."

Letters from Paris adviſe, M. Nadau Dutriel, late governor of Guadaloupe, has at length obtained juſtice. The ſentence of the court martial, pronounced againſt him at Martinico, the 15th of January, 1761, and executed at Rochfort in September, 1762, was broke by a brevet, ſigned by the King's own hand the 6th inſtant, enregiſtered the 15th inſtant, in a court-martial held for that purpoſe, at the Hotel des Invalides, by which he is diſcharged from all the penalties pronounced againſt him in the firſt court-martial, and re-inſtated in his honours, reputation, and all other prerogatives. This ſignal piece of juſtice is the reſult of the ſtricteſt examination into Mr. Nadau's conduct before, during, and after, the ſiege of Guadaloupe.

There is a confirmation of the loſs of the three Algerine Xebeques, the largeſt, fineſt, and neweſt they had, on board of which were 40 chriſtian ſlaves, and about 1200 ſeamen, who are ſuppoſed to have all periſhed; the Rais who commanded a fourth which was in company with them, finding it impoſſible to aſſiſt them, and being returned to Algier, without being able to give an account whether or not a ſingle life was ſaved. They were daſhed to pieces on the rocks of Cape Treſfarcas, under the canon of Meliſle-Prendo, in Spain.

We gratefully acknowledge the obliging Diſpoſition already ſhewn by the Public to encourage our Undertaking of the Rum Diſtillery, and venture to hope for the further Continuance of their Favour, in carrying on a Scheme of ſuch apparent Utility to the Trade of the Province; more eſpecially at a Juncture when the Neceſſity, as well as Advantage, of promoting our own Manufactures, is become ſo very apparent. It is with ſingular Satiſfaction we find our Hopes ſo fully anſwered, by the general Approbation given our Rum for its ſuperior Quality; and we are determined to ſupport its Character, ſhould our Profits be ever ſo ſmall. Some Obſtacles that hitherto prevented our diſtilling ſo faſt as expected being removed, the Buſineſs of the Diſtillery is now carried on by us in the moſt extenſive Manner, by which Means, having a conſtant Stock of Rum on Hand, our Friends, either in this or the neighbouring Provinces, may depend on being always well ſupplied. Importers of Melaſſes may depend on conſtant Purchaſers of the ſame, for which we ſhall always allow the Philadelphia Prices, or be willing to contract with Gentlemen inclined to import Melaſſes, before their Veſſels go out.

And, that the Officers of the Cuſtoms may be the better able to diſcover any Frauds intended for receiving the aforeſaid Premiums; be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall and may be lawful for the ſaid Officers, and they are hereby required, before they make out any ſuch Certificate, to examine the ſaid Goods by ſhifting the ſame, or by ſuch other Means as they ſhall think proper, to find out and diſcover, whether the ſame are good, ſound, and merchantable.

Provided always, That in caſe any Doubt or Diſpute ſhall ariſe between the ſaid Surveyors or Officers of the Cuſtoms, and the Owners or Importers of ſuch of the aforeſaid Goods as are imported into the Port of London, as to the Quality or Condition of the ſame, it ſhall and may be lawful for the Commiſſioners of His Majeſty's Cuſtoms, if they ſhall think proper, to call Two or more Merchants, or others well ſkilled in the Commodity, who ſhall declare, upon Oath, if required, their Opinion, as to the Quality and Condition of the ſame; and, according to the beſt of their Judgment, determine whether the ſaid Goods are entitled to the Premiums hereby granted, or not: And if any Doubt or Diſpute ſhall ariſe, as to the Quality or Condition of any of the aforeſaid Goods imported into any of the Outports in England, proper and true Deſcriptions of the Quality and Condition thereof, atteſted by Two Merchants, or others well ſkilled in the Commodity, at the Port or Place where the ſame ſhall be imported; which Atteſtation ſhall be upon Oath, before any one or more of His Majeſty's Juſtices of the Peace, who is or are hereby authorized to adminiſter the ſame; ſhall be ſent to the Commiſſioners of the Cuſtoms in London; and if imported into the Outports in Scotland, to the Commiſſioners of the Cuſtoms at Edinburgh, in ſuch Manner as the reſpective Commiſſioners ſhall direct, in order that, upon Conſideration thereof by the reſpective Commiſſioners at London, or Edinburgh reſpectively, it may be determined whether the ſame are intitled to the Premiums hereby granted, or not.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That no Fee, Gratuity, or Reward, ſhall be demanded, taken, or received by any Officer of his Majeſty's Cuſtoms, for examining, viewing, or delivering ſuch Goods, with reſpect to the Premium or Reward, allowed by this Act, or for the ſigning any of the Certificates, in order to the receiving ſuch Premium or Reward, or for paying the ſame; and any ſuch Officer demanding or taking ſuch Fee or Reward ſhall, for ſuch Offence, forfeit his Office, and be for ever after incapable of executing any Office or Employment under His Majeſty, His Heirs, and Succeſſors.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That if any ſuch Deals, Boards, Planks, or Timber, of the Growth of the Britiſh Dominions in North-America, ſhall, after the Firſt Day of January, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty ſix, be exported from Great-Britain, that then, and in every ſuch Caſe, the Perſon or Perſons ſo exporting the ſame ſhall, before the Entry thereof, pay unto the Collector of the Cuſtoms, at the Port where the ſame ſhall be exported, or to the Chief Officer of the Cuſtoms there, the full Sum which is by this Act allowed as a Premium on all ſuch Goods reſpectively as he intends to export.

Provided always, That the ſaid Collector or Chief Officer of the Cuſtoms, upon receiving of ſuch Premium from the Exporter of ſuch Goods as aforeſaid, ſhall and do charge himſelf with the Money ſo received; and the Commiſſioners of His Majeſty's Cuſtoms are to take particular Care that the ſame be duly brought to the Account of His Majeſty by ſuch Collector or Chief Officer as aforeſaid.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That if any Perſon or Perſons, their Agents or Aſſigns, ſhall be found fraudulently to export ſuch Goods, without paying ſuch Premium to the Collector or Chief Officer of the Cuſtoms in Manner as aforeſaid, ſuch Perſon or Perſons ſhall forfeit and loſe all ſuch Goods, and double the Value thereof; One Moiety whereof ſhall be to the Uſe of His Majeſty, His Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other Moiety to ſuch Officer of the Cuſtoms as ſhall ſeize or ſue for the ſame; to be proſecuted in any of His Majeſty's Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, or in the Court of Exchequer in Scotland reſpectively, wherein no Eſſoin, Protection or Wager of Law, or more than one Imparlance, ſhall be allowed.

Provided always, That if any Doubt or Diſpute ſhall ariſe, whether any of the Goods, or any Part thereof, ſo to be exported, are of the Growth or Product of His Majeſty's Dominions in North-America, or of Foreign Growth or Product, the Onus Probandi ſhall lie on the Owner or Claimer thereof, and not on the Proſecutor; any Law, Cuſtom, or Uſage, to the contrary notwithſtanding.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That if the Maſter or Owner of any Ship or Veſſel ſhall clandeſtinely import or receive in ſuch Ship or Veſſel, to be imported into Great-Britain, any Deals, Boards, Planks, or Timber, knowing the ſame to be Foreign Growth or Product, and ſhall demand or receive for any ſuch Foreign Deals, Boards, Planks, or Timber, the Reward or Premium hereby granted, ſuch Maſter or Owner ſhall forfeit the Sum of One Hundred Pounds; and the Ship or Veſſel in which ſuch Foreign Deals, Boards, Planks, or Timber, ſhall be ſo fraudulently imported, with all her Guns, Tackle, Apparel, and Furniture, ſhall be alſo forfeited; and the ſame ſhall and may be ſeized, ſued for, proſecuted, and divided, as herein before mentioned.

And whereas by an Act of Parliament made in the Thirty-ſecond Year of the Reign of His late Majeſty King GEORGE the Second, intituled, An Act for granting to His Majeſty a Subſidy of Poundage upon certain Goods and Merchandizes to be imported into this Kingdom; and an additional Inland Duty on Coffee and Chocolate; and for raiſing the Sum of Six millions ſix hundred thouſand Pounds, by way of Annuities and a Lottery, to be charged on the ſaid Subſidy and additional Inland Duty; it was enacted and declared, That from and after the Fifth Day of April, One thouſand ſeven hundred and fifty-nine, there ſhould be charged, levied, collected, and paid, unto and for the Uſe of His Majeſty, His Heirs, and Succeſſors, for and upon all Coffee to be ſold in Great Britain, by Wholeſale or Retail, an additional Inland Duty, to be paid by the reſpective Sellers of ſuch Coffee; (that is to ſay) for and upon all Coffee to be ſold in Great-Britain, an additional Duty of One Shilling per Pound Weight Avoirdupois; and in that Proportion for a greater or leſſer Quantity, over and above the then preſent Inland Duty, and over and above all Cuſtoms and Duties then payable upon the Importation thereof: And whereas it may tend to encourage the Growth of Coffee in the Britiſh Dominions in America, and the Importation thereof into this Kingdom, if the ſaid additional Duty granted by the ſaid laſt recited Act was diſcontinued; be it therefore enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That from and after the Fifth Day of July, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty-five, the ſaid additional Duty of One Shilling per Pound Weight Avoirdupois, for and upon all Coffee to be ſold in Great-Britain, granted by the ſaid laſt recited Act, ſhall ceaſe, and be no longer paid or payable: And that in lieu thereof, from and after the ſaid Fifth Day of July, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty-five, there ſhall be charged, levied, collected, and paid, unto and for the Uſe of His Majeſty, His Heirs, and Succeſſors, for and upon all Coffee, not being of the Growth and Product of the Britiſh Plantations in America, to be ſold in Great-Britain by Wholeſale or Retail, an additional Inland Duty, to be paid by the Sellers of ſuch Coffee; (that is to ſay) for and upon all Coffee, not being of the Growth and Product of the Britiſh Plantations in America, to be ſold in Great-Britain, an additional Inland Duty of Six Pence per Pound Weight Avoirdupois; and in that Proportion for a greater or leſſer Quantity, over and above the Inland Duty of Two Shillings per Pound paid on Coffee, granted by an Act made in the Tenth Year of the Reign of His Majeſty King GEORGE the Firſt, entituled, An Act for repealing certain Duties therein mentioned payable upon Coffee, Tea, Cocoa Nuts, Chocolate, and Cocoa Paſte imported; and for granting certain Inland Duties in lieu thereof; and for prohibiting the Importation of Chocolate ready made, and Cocoa Paſte; and for better aſcertaining the Duties payable upon Coffee, Tea, and Cocoa Nuts imported; and for granting Relief to Robert Dalzell, late Earl of Carnwath, and over and above all Cuſtoms and Duties payable upon the Importation thereof.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid additional Inland Duty hereby granted to His Majeſty, ſhall be raiſed, levied, collected, and paid, in the ſame Manner, and under ſuch Management, and under ſuch Penalties and Forfeitures, and with ſuch Power for recovering the ſame, and by ſuch Rules, Ways, and Methods, as the former Inland Duties payable to His Majeſty upon Coffee are raiſed, levied, collected, and paid, as fully, to all Intents and Purpoſes, as if the ſeveral Clauſes, Powers, Directions, Penalties, and Forfeitures relating thereto, were particularly repeated, and again enacted in the Body of this preſent Act, and ſhall be paid into the Exchequer in like Manner, and appropriated to the ſame Uſes to which the ſaid Duty of One Shilling per Pound Weight was made applicable.

Provided always, and it is hereby further enacted, That nothing herein before contained ſhall extend, or be conſtrued to extend, to take off the additional Duty of One Shilling per Pound upon Coffee granted by the ſaid recited Act of the Thirty-ſecond Year of the Reign of His late Majeſty King GEORGE the Second, with reſpect to ſuch Coffee which now is, or ſhall on or before the Fifth Day Day of July, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty-five, be lodged or ſecured in any Warehouſe or Warehouſes, in Purſuance of the Directions of any former Act or Acts of Parliament in that Behalf made; nor ſhall the ſaid additional Duty hereby granted be charged upon ſuch Coffee ſo lodged or ſecured in any ſuch Warehouſe or Warehouſes.

And whereas by an Act of Parliament, made in the Ninth and Tenth Years of the Reign of King William the Third, intituled, An Act for granting to His Majeſty a further Subſidy of Tonnage and Poundage, towards raiſing the yearly Sum of Seven hundred thouſand Pounds, for the Service of His Majeſty's Houſhold, and other Uſes therein mentioned, during His Majeſty's Life; and by ſeveral ſubſequent Acts of Parliament, which are now in Force, ſeveral Bounties or Drawbacks, amounting in the Whole to Twelve Shillings per Hundred Weight, are allowed upon the Exportation of Sugar refined in this Kingdom: Now, to prevent any Frauds that may be practiſed to the great prejudice of the Revenue of the Cuſtoms by the Exportation of Sugars not completely refined, and Sugars made from Scum, and other Traſh and Refuſe of Sugar Houſes, under the Denomination of Refined Sugar, in order to obtain the Bounties or Drawbacks herein before-mentioned; be it enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That from and after the Firſt Day of June, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty-five, the ſeveral Bounties or Drawbacks allowed by the ſaid Acts upon Refined Sugars, ſhall ceaſe, determine, and be no longer paid; and in lieu and inſtead thereof, a Bounty of Fourteen Shillings and Six Pence per Hundred Weight ſhall be allowed and paid upon Refined Sugar exported from Great-Britain in the Loaf complete and whole, being net, that is to ſay, of One uniform Whiteneſs throughout, and which hath gone through the Operation of Two or more Clays ſince it was laſt in the Pan, and hath been properly and thoroughly dried in the Stove, according to the preſent Practice of Refining; any Law, Cuſtom, or Uſage, to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Provided nevertheleſs, That if any of the ſaid Refined Sugars, being either in ſmall or great Loaves, commonly called Lumps, ſhall have gone through the Operation of Three Clays, at the leaſt, ſince they were laſt in the Pan, and ſhall be net, and ſhall have been thoroughly dried in the Stove in the Manner herein before directed, though ſuch Loaves be exported without the ſmall Ends or Tips, they ſhall be eſteemed compleat and whole within the true Intent and Meaning of this Act, and the Exporter of the ſame ſhall receive the Drawback or Bounty accordingly.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That from and after the ſaid Firſt Day of June, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty-five, in lieu of all Bounties and Drawbacks which may have been allowed or paid, heretofore, on all Refined Sugar called Baſtards, and Ground Sugar, and on Refined Sugar called Candy, there ſhall be allowed and paid on the Exportation from Great-Britain of all Refined Sugar called Baſtard, and of all ground or powdered Refined Sugar, and of all Refined Loaf Sugar broke in Pieces (the ſaid Sugar having been twice clayed and properly dried in the Stove) and on all Candy properly refined and manufactured, and free from Dirt and Scum, a Bounty or Drawback of Six Shillings and Four Pence per Hundred Weight, and no more; which ſaid ſeveral Bounties or Drawbacks of Fourteen Shillings and Six Pence, and Six Shillings and Four Pence, herein before granted, ſhall be paid and allowed out of any of the Duties on which the former Drawbacks or Bounties on Refined Sugars were payable.

And it is hereby further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That if the proper Officers of the Cuſtoms ſhall, upon View and Examination, either before or after Shipping, find any Sugar or Candy which ſhall be entered for Exportation, in order to obtain the Bounties or Drawbacks thereon, to be leſs in Quantity than expreſſed in the Exporter's Indorſement, or entered under a wrong Denomination; or if ſuch Sugars ſhall not be reſpectively refined in the Manner before directed; or if ſuch Candy ſhall not be properly refined and manufactured, and free from Dirt and Scum, all ſuch Sugar or Candy ſhall be forfeited, and ſhall and may be ſeized by any Officer or Officers of the Cuſtoms, and proſecuted according to Law.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That before any Drawback or Bounty is paid for any of the Sugars or Candy herein before mentioned, or any Debenture made out for the ſame, the Refiner or Refiners, not being the Exporter or Exporters of ſuch Sugar or Candy, ſhall make Oath before the Collector or other proper Officer of the Cuſtoms, that he or they ſold ſuch Sugars or Candy, expreſſing the Quantity, and the Time when, to the Perſon or Perſons intending to export the ſame; and that ſuch Sugars have reſpectively gone through the Operations herein before expreſſed, and have been properly and thoroughly dried in the Stoves, or that ſuch Candy has been properly refined and manufactured according to the true Intent and Meaning of this Act; and, as he or they verily believe, ſuch Sugar or Candy was produced from Muſcovado Sugar imported from His Majeſty's Plantations in America; and that the ſeveral Duties payable thereon were duly paid at the Time of importing the ſame; and the Exporter or Exporters of ſuch Sugars or Candy, ſhall then make Oath, that ſuch Sugars or Candy, being the Sugars or Candy for which ſuch Bounty or Drawback is then claimed, are the identical Sugars or Candy, or Part thereof, which were ſold to him as aforeſaid by ſuch Refiner or Refiners; and before the Money due upon ſuch Debenture or Debentures ſhall be paid, ſuch Exporter or Exporters ſhall alſo make Oath that the ſaid Sugars or Candy have been duly exported, His Majeſty's Searcher alſo certifying the ſhipping thereof, and all other Requiſites duly performed, according to the Book of Rates; and whenever the Refiner or Refiners of ſuch Sugar or Candy ſhall be the Exporter or Exporters thereof, he or they ſhall then make Oath, as well of the due Exportation of the ſame, as of the ſeveral Particulars herein before directed to be ſworn to by him or them (excepting what relates to the Sale of the ſaid Sugars or Candy) according to the true Intent and Meaning of this Act.

Madrid, April 30. The Governor of Ceuta has wrote to the Court, that being informed of the places where the Corſairs of Tetuan were laid up for the winter, he ſent ſome armed barks, which burnt two of their galliots, without receiving damage themſelves. Leghorn, May 6. This day arrived from Algiers, after a paſſage of ten days, the St. Anthony, a Dutch ſhip, having on board the officers and men of the Neapolitan galleys that were carried into ſlavery ſome years ago; they are 44 in all, for whoſe ranſom the King of Naples has paid 40,000 Sequins.

Madrid, May 7. The King has received letters from Don Francis Xavier de la Torre, his Majeſty's Lieutenant, and Governor of the Philippine Iſlands, dated the 24th of July, by which we learn that that officer having preſented to the Engliſh commandant, who kept the poſſeſſion of Manilla and Cabite, the diſpatches he had received from his Majeſty, and the Court of London, ordering him to retake poſſeſſion of thoſe places, the Engliſh evacuated them on the 9th of April the ſame year, and they became again under the dominion of the Spaniards.

Baſſora, in Aſia, Feb. 10. The affairs of Perſia have been in a ſtate of perfect tranquility for theſe two years paſt, under the prudent government of Kerim-Kan; there has been but two trifling revolts, which he took care to ſuppreſs as ſoon as they broke out. All Perſia is ſubject to him, except the Coraſſan, which is under the dominion of Ahmet Chah, King of Agvan, who has peaceably enjoyed upwards of ten years, a moſt extenſive country in India and Perſia, beſides the province of Candahar, his native country. It may with truth be aſſerted of him, that he is the richeſt King in Aſia, for all the treaſures of Nadir Chah, Thamas Kouli-Kan, and Delhi, have fallen into his hands. Kerim-Kan is at preſent in our neighbourhood at Kormova, in the Loriſtan, with an army which is ſaid to conſiſt of 60,000 men; and it is pretended that he will go, as ſoon as the ſeaſon will permit, to chaſtiſe ſome pirates who are cruizing in the Perſian Gulph. This Prince likewiſe propoſes to ſet to rights the affairs of the provinces of Fars and Loriſtan.

Stutgard, May 14. What has been publiſhed in the foreign News papers, has been read here with aſtoniſhment, to wit, that a body of the troops of Heſſe Caſſel ſhould enter this Territory, as hitherto no Imperial commiſſion has iſſued for that purpoſe, and all poſſible means have been uſed to reconcile the differences ſubſiſting between the Duke and his ſubjects, and the Mediation ſtrengthened by the Emperor, and the Courts of London, Berlin, and Copenhagen. Can it be imagined that ſo powerful an interpoſition ſhould meet with oppoſition?

June 1. They write from Paris, that the French Miniſtry are ſo far from complying with the late requeſt of Count Marbeuf, their General in Corſica, for a reinforcement of two thouſand men, that a very ſevere reprimand has been ſent him, for ſuffering ſo great a deſertion among his troops; and it was the general opinion he would ſoon be ſucceeded by the Count de Provence.

We are informed from Birmingham, that a perſon in that Town has compleated one of the greateſt pieces of mechaniſm, of the kind, ſuppoſed to be in Europe: It conſiſts of a lock, ſo conſtructed that, when faſtened on a door, and attempted to be unlocked or forced open by robbers, gives an alarm by bells, and at the ſame time diſcharges a brace of piſtols upon the perſon ſo attempting: The other parts of the work are done in a maſterly manner, the wards being of a ſingular kind, and the bow of the Key is neatly pierced, repreſenting the King's Arms in full proportion.

June 4. Saturday, about five o'clock in the afternoon, a terrible fire broke out at the Dock-yard, Prince's-ſtairs, Rotherhithe, occaſioned, it is ſaid, by a pot of boiling pitch being careleſly left in the yard by the people, who ran out to ſee a dancing bear that was exhibiting its dexterity in the ſtreet; the pot in the interim boiling over, and ſet fire to all the wood and materials in the yard, beſides two new ſhips which were loaded, and ready for ſailing; all Prince's-ſtreet, which has but lately been built, Queen-ſtreet, and part of Paradiſe-ſtreet, were conſumed, in the whole above 200 houſes, beſides ſeveral damaged. The flames were ſo furious, owing to a want of water, that the people had hardly time to ſave any of their effects. During the confuſion 7 villians were detected in carrying off goods belonging to the poor ſufferers, five of whom were carried to a Roundhouſe, and the other two to Newington, to be dealt with according to law.

It is ſaid, not above one third of the houſes burnt down by the above fire were inſured. The damage ſuſtained is computed to amount to near 100,000 l.

The hiſtory of England, or perhaps that of any other nation, hardly furniſhes an example ſo glorious to a ſubject as that of his being called twice from retirement, by the command of his Sovereign, and with the voice of the people, to reſtore to good order the perplexed affairs of his country. So peculiar an honour however diſtinguiſhes Mr. Pitt, for whom ſo high an eſteem, for ſhining abilities, and inflexible integrity, appears to be rivetted in the hearts of a whole people, as no influence can withdraw, nor any calumnies leſſen; and their confidence in him is ſo great, and has been ſo laſting, that it is no extravagance to ſay, he has an actual command over their fortunes and lives; on which good men may congratulate themſelves in a corrupt age, from ſeeing that real virtue wants not incitements, ſince, when diſcovered, it excites ſuch attachments as are its moſt ſatisfactory rewards. The Sovereign honours himſelf moſt by honouring thoſe who poſſeſs moſt of the confidence of his people; for in their ampleſt truſts his higheſt power muſt conſiſt. It is impoſſible to deſcribe truly the univerſal ſatisfaction that is now felt and expreſſed at the expectation which is entertained of high glory to his Majeſty, and as high happineſs to his people, from all future ſtate meaſures. They know the goodneſs of his royal heart is ſuch, that he has no diſtinct objects, nor have they any ſeparate views; they wiſh but to ſhare in his glory, and to partake of his welfare, which, with their fortunes and lives, they will be ſolicitous to encreaſe; and they have but one deſire more, which is, that no inſtrument of diſſenſion may be ſuffered to remain, even to put harmony again to the leaſt hazard; for what are the gratifications of individuals, oppoſed to the good of a whole community.

June 8. Letters from Cologne of the 31ſt ult. ſay, they had an account from Metz in Lorrain, that Duelling was come into faſhion there among the fair ſex; two ladies, one the wife of a member of the General Aſſembly, and the other that of a Commiſſary of War, having ſome difference, reſolved to decide their quarrel by the Point of the ſword; in which the former was wounded in the arm, and the other received a wound in the breaſt.

The proceſſion of the Lord-Mayor, and deputation of Aldermen, Sheriffs, &c. on Thurſday, to wait upon his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Glouceſter, was both grand and elegant. His Lordſhip was in the ſtate coach, drawn by ſix fine dark grey horſes, all richly dreſſed out, preceded by the City Marſhals on horſeback, and ſix of his Lordſhip's footmen, and followed by 20 other coaches, in which were the Deputation, all richly dreſſed, ſeveral of whom had two, and ſome three livery ſervants attending; which made a foreigner obſerve, that as the city of London was one of the greateſt and richeſt in the world, its Magiſtrates and Citizens, on public occaſions, appeared as ſo many Princes and Nobles.

BOSTON, Auguſt 1.

Some Minutes relating to Affairs at Home are collected from Letters received by Capt. Blake.

The parliament was prorogued the latter end of May: A few days before which the Principal officers of ſtate were very unexpectedly made acquainted with the K---'s intentions of making ſome changes in ſeveral of the higheſt departments of government; and accordingly the parliament, notwithſtanding they had finiſhed all the buſineſs of the ſeſſion, was adjourned from day to day for the ſpace of three days ſucceſſively, in order, as is uſual in thoſe caſes, to iſſue writs for new elections in caſe of any ſeats in the houſe being vacated by promotion to office---In the mean time it was publickly known that no leſs a perſonage than the D. of C---b---d went down to Mr. P. at his ſeat at Hayes, (Mr. P. himſelf being ill of the gout) with the K---'s inſtructions to deſire him to take upon him the principal management of public affairs, and to let him know that he might nominate to every principal office, and bring in with him ſuch perſons as he pleaſed---This offer, after a long conference with the D. Mr. P. declined accepting, urging, 'tis ſaid, his increaſing ill health-----however that was, tis very certain the D. returned to court with Mr. P's negative to the offer, which occaſioned no ſmall conſternation and buſtle at court.------The next day Mr. P. and his brothers in law Earl T. and Mr. J. G-----le, became reconciled to their brother Mr. G. G-----le, to whom they had not ſpoke in two or three years, and all ſupped together at Lord T---'s.-----A council was ſoon held, and inſtead of the preſent miniſtry being turned out, the following changes were made, viz. the Hon. S. M----zie, brother of a certain unpopular nobleman, had the privy ſeal of Scotland taken from him in favour of Lord F. C---ll, younger brother to the D. of A---le; Lord North---l---d, brother in law alſo of the ſaid nobleman, reſigned the lord lieutenancy of Ireland, and Lord Weymouth appointed in his room. Mr. Charles Townſend appointed paymaſter general, in the room of Lord Holland reſigned; theſe are all the changes of any conſequence that happened, and it is ſaid, and generally believed, that the D. of N-----tle has publickly declared, that none of his friends will accept any poſt under the government, if offered, to the diſobliging of the preſent miniſtry; and it is certain that ſeveral perſons of diſtinction of the oppoſition, who had not ſpoke to Mr. G. G-----le for a long time, went to his levee immediately after the aforeſaid overture to Mr. P. and his declining it.

Theſe ſeemingly ſtrange and contradictory events and appearances are generally accounted for in England, by ſuppoſing that the beforementioned unpopular gentleman expected, under all the circumſtances of things, that the preſent miniſtry would have ſubmitted in ſome conſiderable meaſure to be adviſed by him in the conduct of the public buſineſs; but finding them in that particular quite untractable, that he adviſed the bringing in Mr. P. again, in hopes of being able to make ſome better terms with him; but if that could not be done, that by this means the people would be gratified, and that conſequently at leaſt the public clamours, which have all along ſeemed ultimately to fall on the ſaid nobleman, would ſubſide, and give him time and opportunity to recover himſelf.-----All this, it is ſaid, Mr. P. ſaw through, and being perſuaded that the overtures thus made to him, proceeded not ſo much from choice and inclination, as from a deſign to anſwer particular perſonal purpoſes, not only refuſed to accept the ſame, but immediately threw the weight of his influence into the other ſcale, as he now perceived both parties were embarked in the ſame bottom, viz. that of oppoſing the influence of the Favourite.----'Tis ſaid Mr. P. told the D. that he never would undertake and be accountable to the public for his conduct in an office of ſtate, while another, who ſuſtained no office, and conſequently would not be accountable for the advice he ſhould give in public matters, would be continually going between him and the K---. -----That he thought in his conſcience Mr. G. G-----le was the fitteſt man in the kingdom to manage the buſineſs of the treaſury, and that he did not think it was in his power, under all circumſtances, to render any eſſential ſervices either to the K. or the public by the proffered honour.

The ſituation at court, to be ſure, by all accounts, is very particular---The miniſtry given plainly to underſtand that they were to go out, and others take their places----the principal perſon intended to be brought in, with ſuch others as he ſhould name, refuſing to come in for the very reaſon that occaſioned the determination to make a change---and in conſequence of that, the ſame threatened miniſtry continued in the adminiſtration, becauſe thoſe who were formerly their enemies, now by this ſtep made their friends, refuſe to lend their aid, in order to their being got in, by declining to ſupply their places.

Various are the gueſſes of the connoiſſieurs of what will happen to the miniſtry in the courſe of the ſummer, and what may be done in parliament next ſeſſion, in conſequence of theſe events; but time only will diſcover what theſe will be, or whether any thing."

The Caſes and Boxes for packing the Stamped Papers and Parchments, were making the middle of June laſt, and would be ſoon ready to ſhip for theſe American Provinces.

We hear that a Brigantine belonging to Rhode-Iſland, was lately caſt away in the Streights of Belleiſle, and all loſt.

Extracts of late Intelligence from England.

"I congratulate Great-Britain and the Colonies on the happy Reſtoration of Mr. P--- to his former Influence in Buſineſs. 'Tis certain he has had every Thing offered him, and like himſelf has refuſed every Thing, but the Honour of ſerving his King and Country in the moſt difficult Conjunctures. This, by one of the fineſt Strokes of Policy in the World, he has on a late Occaſion moſt eſſentially effected. I venture to predict, that when the whole ſhall be known, his noble behaviour in this Inſtance will be as highly extolled, and as juſtly celebrated, as any Part of his heroic Conduct of the laſt War. I am alſo to aſſure you the Tide begins to ſet in in Favour of North-America, and you may depend on it, a Torrent will ſoon ſweep away all your Enemies. You will alſo ſoon have the Pleaſure of once more ſeeing your Friends in the Zenith of Power. I have good Reaſon to believe that before next Chriſtmas it will be as dangerous in South-Britain to ſcribble and harrangue againſt the Colonies, as it now is to attempt a Vindication of Lord ----, and his Junto. Tis certain his Lordſhip will never again be ſo happy here as he may be North of Tweed. I muſt alſo take Leave poſitively to declare, that all Meaſures, prejudicial to the Intereſts of America, ever yet taken, have been not only propoſed, but even very warmly recommended, by mean mercenary Hirelings or Parricides among yourſelves, who for a little filthy Lucre would at any time betray every Right, Liberty and Privilege of their Fellow Subjects. Moſt Men of Senſe in England are now convinced that they have been moſt miſerably deceived and deluded by the Accounts received from Placemen in the Colonies, or the Seekers of ſuch Places, who are and have been here from thence."

There were a great Number of French Merchantmen at the Cape.

PHILADELPHIA, Auguſt 15.

On Thurſday laſt we received a diſagreeable Account from Lancaſter, of Lieutenant Fraſer, and his Party, being cut off by a Body of Indians at the Ilinois, under the Command of Pondiac, which we were hopeful was not true; but the following Intelligence coming to hand ſince, we are afraid there is but too much Reaſon to credit that Account.

Extract of a Letter from Fort Pitt, July 24, 1765.

"The Fate of Lieutenant Fraſer, I believe, is no longer to be doubted. Yeſterday I received the following Intelligence from a Seneca Chief, who had been called to a Meeting held lately at one of their Villages, near the Lakes, when he was informed by the Ottowa's, that after Mr. Fraſer got to the Ilinois, he ſent Meſſages to the different Nations reſiding near that Place, to acquaint them of his Arrival, and that their Brethren the Engliſh expected they would come to Council with them there. But Pondiac, an Ottowa Chief, on receiving this Meſſage, immediately collected all the Indians under his Influence to the Ilinois, and ordered the French Commanding Officer there to deliver up theſe Engliſhmen to him, as he had prepared a large Kettle, in which he was determined to boil them, and all other Engliſhmen that came that Way. The French Officer endeavoured to pacify him, by ſaying, that the Intention of the Engliſh was good, and their Buſineſs to make Peace with all Indians. But he told the French, that they were the firſt Cauſe of his ſtriking the Engliſh, and that it was their Tomahawk he ſtill held in his Hand, which he would make uſe of upon all Occaſions againſt them; then ordered his Warriors to ſeize the Engliſh, and the Indians that were with them, which they did, and carried them off bound, having cut off the Ears and Fingers of a Six Nation Indian. Pondiac told the French, that he had been informed of Mr. Croghan's coming that Way to treat with the Indians; and that he would keep his Kettle boiling over a large Fire, to receive him likewiſe on his Arrival there.-----Soon after theſe Indians were diſperſed from the Ilinois, a Number of other Indians, of the different Nations who live beyond it, came there, and expreſſed great Concern at Pondiac's Conduct, and ſaid they would go and meet Mr. Croghan, to prevent the like Misfortune happening to him, ſaying they were ſincerely diſpoſed to live in Peace with the Engliſh.----There is a good Deal of Reaſon to credit the above Account; but I hope, by the Interpoſition of theſe Nations, that Mr. Croghan will be able to reconcile Pondiac, and ſettle Matters with the whole."

Extract of a Letter from Pennſborough, Auguſt 7, 1765.

"Agreeable to my Promiſe, when I ſaw you laſt, I now acquaint you, that I have this Day received a Letter from Mr. Croghan, dated at Wiochtonan, the 13th of July; at which Place, he acquaints me, he was attacked by a large Body of Indians, who killed two of his Men, and three of the Shawaneſe Deputies that accompanied him, ſlightly wounded Major Smallman and himſelf, and made them all Priſoners. But when he informed them who he was, and upon what Buſineſs he was going; that he was conducted thither by the Shawaneſe Nation, and that it was their Chiefs who were killed; they, in the moſt abject Manner, begged Forgiveneſs of him, as they then began to apprehend what they had done might be a Means of bringing the Shawaneſe, Delawares and Six Nations on them, whom they very much dread. However, he has accommodated Matters with them entirely to his Satisfaction, and intended to proceed immediately to the Ilinois, where he expects the like Succeſs, and about the Firſt of September hopes to be at Fort Pitt."

On Sunday laſt died here, after a ſhort, but ſevere, Illneſs, WILLIAM PLUMSTED, Eſq; one of the Aldermen of this City; and the next Day was buried in St. Peter's Church Burying Ground, in the plaineſt Manner, at his own Requeſt, according to the new Mode, lately uſed in Boſton and New-York, having no Pall over his Coffin, nor none of his Relations or Friends appearing in Mourning.--------We flatter ourſelves, that this frugal and laudable Example of burying our Dead, ſo ſeaſonably ſet by People of Family and Fortune, will be imitated by all, both in City and Country; the good Effects of which muſt ſoon be felt, eſpecially by thoſe in low Circumſtances.

On Tueſday, the 30th ult. one of the Bordentown Stage Waggoners, named Bliſs, returning from Amboy Ferry, endeavoured to get before another of the Waggons; for which Purpoſe he turned out of the beaten Track, when his Waggon Wheel ſtriking againſt a ſmall Stump, he was thrown out of the Waggon, and the Wheels paſſing over his Head and Body, cruſhed him to Death in a Moment.

The next Day, a Waggoner going through Arney's Town, in New-Jerſey, fell out of his Waggon, and the Wheels went over him; he was taken up alive, and an Attempt made to bleed him, but he died in about Half an Hour.---Theſe Inſtances are here mentioned, in order to warn others to take more Care in ſuch Caſes.

There was ſuch a Depth of Water in Market-ſtreet, that ſeveral Boys ſwam quite acroſs, from one Side to the other---We have not heard of any Damage from the Country.

REMAINDER of the ACT begun in our laſt.

AND whereas by an Act made in the laſt Seſſion of Parliament, intituled, An Act for granting, for a limited Time, a Liberty to carry Rice from His Majeſty's Provinces of South-Carolina and Georgia, directly to any Part of America to the Southward of the ſaid Provinces, ſubject to the like Duty as is now paid, on the Exportation of Rice, from the ſaid Colonies to Places in Europe, ſituate to the Southward of Cape Finiſterre, which was to be in Force for five Years, from the Twenty-fourth Day of June, One Thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty four, and from thence to the End of the next Seſſion of Parliament, Liberty is granted to any of His Majeſty's Subjects, in any Ship or Veſſel built in Great-Britain, or in His Majeſty's Colonies in America, or belonging to any of His Majeſty's Subjects, and navigated according to Law, that ſhall clear outwards, in any Port of the ſaid Provinces of South-Carolina or Georgia, to ſhip or load Rice in the ſaid Provinces, and to carry the ſame directly to any Part of America, Southward of South-Carolina or Georgia, without carrying the ſame to any other of His Majeſty's Plantations in America, or to Great-Britain; under certain Limitations, Reſtrictions and Penalties, therein contained: And whereas the granting the like Liberty to export Rice, in the ſame Manner, from His Majeſty's Colony of North-Carolina, to any Place in America, Southward of South-Carolina or Georgia, may be of great Benefit to the ſaid Colony of North-Carolina; be it therefore further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That from and after the Fifth Day of July, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty five, it ſhall and may be lawful, during the Continuance of the ſaid recited Act, for any of His Majeſty's Subjects, in any Ship or Veſſel, built in Great-Britain, or in His Majeſty's Colonies in America, or belonging to any of His Majeſty's Subjects, and navigated according to Law, that ſhall clear outwards in any Part of the ſaid Province of North-Carolina, to ſhip or load Rice in the ſaid Province, and to carry the ſame directly to any Parts of America, Southward of South-Carolina and Georgia, without carrying the ſame to any other of His Majeſty's Plantations in America, or to Great-Britain, under the like Entries, Securities, Reſtrictions, Regulations, Limitations, Duties, Penalties, and Forfeitures, as are particularly directed, appointed, limited, or enacted, with reſpect to Rice carried from South-Carolina and Georgia, to any Part of America, to the Southward of South-Carolina or Georgia, in the ſaid in Part recited Act of the laſt Seſſion of Parliament, as fully and effectually, to all Intents and Purpoſes, as if the ſeveral Clauſes, Powers, Directions, Penalties, and Forfeitures, relating thereto, were particularly repeated, and again enacted in the Body of this preſent Act.

And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That all Duties which ſhall ariſe in reſpect of Rice ſo carried from North-Carolina, and the Duties which, from and after the ſaid Fifth Day of July, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty five, ſhall ariſe in reſpect of Rice carried from South-Carolina and Georgia, in Purſuance of the ſaid laſt recited Act, be paid into the Receipt of His Majeſty's Exchequer, and there reſerved, to be, from time to time, diſpoſed of by Parliament, towards further defraying the neceſſary Expences of defending, protecting and ſecuring, the Britiſh Colonies and Plantations in America.

And whereas, by ſeveral Laws now in Force, Rice of the Growth or Produce of His Majeſty's Colonies or Plantations in America is, upon Importation into, and being landed in Great-Britain, ſubject and liable to various Duties, all which (except the Half of the Old Subſidy) are drawn back upon Exportation: And whereas ſuch Rice is frequently imported into the Ports of Plymouth, Exeter, Poole, Southampton, Chicheſter, Sandwich, and Glaſgow, and the Members thereunto belonging, for no other Purpoſe but to be directly exported into Foreign Parts; and the obliging the Importers to pay down the full Duties in ſuch Caſes, hath laid them under Difficulties, and may be prejudicial to the Trade of this Kingdom; to remedy which for the future, and in order to give all fitting Encouragement to this Trade, be it enacted, by the Authority aforeſaid, That from and after the Firſt Day of June, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty five, where any Ship or Veſſel ſhall arrive at any of the Ports or Places before-mentioned, from any of the Britiſh Plantations in America, with Rice of the Growth and Production of ſuch Britiſh Plantation, and the Importer of ſuch Rice ſhall give Notice to the Collector and Comptroller of the reſpective Ports or Places before-mentioned, wherein ſuch Ships ſhall arrive, of his Intention to export the whole Cargo of ſuch Rice immediately, in the ſame Ship, to Foreign Parts, and the Maſter of ſuch Ship ſhall ſo report his Cargo accordingly; that then, and in ſuch Caſe, it ſhall and may be lawful for the Importer to pay down, in ready Money, One Half of the Old Subſidy, granted by the Act of Tonnage and Poundage, paſſed in the Twelfth Year of the Reign of King Charles the Second, and no more; which ſhall not afterwards be drawn back or repaid on Exportation of the ſame Goods; and the Importer of ſuch Rice ſhall and may give Bond, with One or more ſufficient Securities, to His Majeſty, His Heirs, and Succeſſors, in Double Value of the Rice ſo imported, for the Payment of the remaining Duties within Sixty Days from the Date of ſuch Bond, for all ſuch Rice as ſhall be landed out of any Ship ſo entered and reported; which Bond ſhall and may be vacated and diſcharged upon Payment of the ſaid remaining Duties within the Time before limited and appointed, or upon the ſaid Rice being duly reſhipped and exported; any Law, Cuſtom, or Uſage, to the contrary notwithſtanding.

And whereas by an Act made in the laſt Seſſion of Parliament, intituled, An Act for granting certain Duties in the Britiſh Colonies and Plantations in America; for continuing, amending, and making perpetual, an Act paſſed in the Sixth Year of the Reign of His late Majeſty King GEORGE the Second (intituled, An Act for the better ſecuring and encouraging the Trade of His Majeſty's Sugar Colonies in America) for applying the Produce of ſuch Duties, and of the Duties to ariſe by virtue of the ſaid Act, towards defraying the Expences of defending, protecting, and ſecuring, the ſaid Colonies and Plantations; for explaining an Act made in the Twenty fifth Year of the Reign of King Charles the Second (intituled, An Act for the Encouragement of the Greenland and Eaſtland Trades, and for the better ſecuring the Plantation Trade) and for altering and diſallowing ſeveral Drawbacks on Exports from this Kingdom, and more effectually preventing the clandeſtine Conveyance of Goods to and from the ſaid Colonies and Plantations, and improving and ſecuring the Trade between the ſame and Great-Britain; it is, amongſt other Things, enacted, that from and after the Twenty ninth Day of September, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty four, no Iron, nor any Sort of Wood, commonly called Lumber, as ſpecified in an Act paſſed in the Eighth Year of the Reign of King GEORGE the Firſt, intituled, An Act for giving further Encouragement for the Importation of Naval Stores, and for other Purpoſes therein mentioned, of the Growth, Production, or Manufacture, of any Britiſh Colony or Plantation in America, ſhall be there laden on Board any Ship or Veſſel, to be carried from thence, until ſufficient Bond ſhall be given, with One Surety beſides the Maſter of the Veſſel, to the Collector or other Principal Officer of the Cuſtoms at the loading Port, in a Penalty of Double the Value of the Goods, with Condition, that the ſaid Goods ſhall not be landed in any Part of Europe, except Great-Britain, and to bring Certificates in Diſcharge thereof within the reſpective Times, and in the Manner directed by the ſaid Act: And whereas it may be expedient to extend the Importation of ſuch Iron to Ireland, and alſo to extend the Importation of ſuch Wood, commonly called Lumber, to Ireland, and to the Madeiras, and the Weſtern Iſlands, called the Azores, and any Part of Europe, to the Southward of Cape Finiſterre; be it therefore enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That from and after the Fifth Day of July, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty five, any Iron, being the Production or Manufacture of any Britiſh Colony or Plantation in America, ſhall and may be there laden on Board any Ship or Veſſel, to be carried from thence to Ireland; and alſo that any Wood, commonly called Lumber, as ſpecified in the ſaid Act of the Eighth Year of the Reign of His late Majeſty King GEORGE the Firſt, of the Growth or Production of any Britiſh Colony or Plantation in America, ſhall and may in like Manner, be there laden on Board any Ship or Veſſel, to be carried from thence to Ireland, or to the Madeiras, or the Weſtern Iſles, called The Azores, or to any Part of Europe, to the Southward of Cape Finiſterre, upon ſufficient Bond being given in the Penalty, and in the Manner directed by the ſaid Act, made in the laſt Seſſion of Parliament, with Condition, that the ſaid Goods ſhall be there landed accordingly, and not in any other Part of Europe, except Great-Britain; and that Certificates, under the Hands and Seals of the Collector or other principal Officer of the Cuſtoms reſident at the Port or Place where ſuch Goods ſhall be landed in Ireland, teſtifying the Landing thereof, ſhall be produced to the Collector or other principal Officer, where Bond ſhall have been given, within Eighteen Months from the Date of ſuch Bond; and that for ſuch of the ſaid Goods as ſhall be entered for, and landed at, the Madeiras, or the Weſtern Iſles, called The Azores, or any Part of Europe, to the Southward of Cape Finiſterre, the like Certificate ſhall be produced within the ſame Time to the Officers before mentioned, under the Common Seal of the Chief Magiſtrate, or under the Hand and Seal of the Britiſh Conſul, or Hands and Seals of two known Britiſh Merchants reſiding where ſuch Goods ſhall be landed; and upon the producing of ſuch Certificate or Proof upon Oath being made by Two credible Perſons, that the ſaid Goods were taken by Enemies, or periſhed in the Seas, the ſaid Bond ſhall be diſcharged; any thing in the ſaid recited Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

And whereas by an Act, made in the Twenty-third Year of the Reign of His late Majeſty King GEORGE the Second, intituled, An Act to encourage the Importation of Pig and Bar Iron from His Majeſty's Colonies in America, and to prevent the Erection of any Mill, or other Engine, for Slitting or Rolling of Iron, or any Plateing Forge to work with a Tilt Hammer, or any Furnace for making Steel in any of the ſaid Colonies; it is, amongſt other Things, enacted, That no Bar Iron, made in His Majeſty's Colonies in America, which ſhould be imported from thence into the Port of London free of Duty, as by the ſaid recited Act was permitted, ſhould be afterwards exported or carried Coaſtwiſe, to be landed at any other Port or Place of Great-Britain, except for the Uſe of His Majeſty's Dock Yards, under the Penalties and Forfeitures in the ſaid recited Act mentioned: And whereas by another Act, made in the Thirtieth Year of the Reign of His ſaid late Majeſty King GEORGE the Second, intituled, An Act to extend the Liberty granted by an Act of the Twenty-third Year of the Reign of His preſent Majeſty, of importing Bar Iron from His Majeſty's Colonies in America into the Port of London, to the reſt of the Ports of Great-Britain, and for repealing certain Clauſes in the ſaid Act; ſuch Bar Iron may now be imported from the ſaid Britiſh Colonies in America into all the Ports in Great-Britain free of Duty; and as it will be to the Advantage of the ſaid Colonies, as well as to the Trade of this Kingdom, if ſuch Bar Iron was allowed to be exported from Great-Britain, or carried Coaſtwiſe therein; be it therefore enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That from and after the Firſt Day of June, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty-five, the ſaid Clauſe in the before recited Act of the Twenty-third Year of His late Majeſty, prohibiting the Exportation of ſuch Bar Iron, or carrying the ſame Coaſtwiſe in Great-Britain, ſhall be, and the ſame is hereby declared to be, repealed.

And whereas the Maſters of ſeveral Ships or Veſſels, ſailing from the Britiſh American Colonies or Plantations, have cleared out from thence in Ballaſt, without taking any Goods on Board there, purpoſely to evade giving Bond, as directed by the before recited Act, made in the laſt Seſſion of Parliament, with Condition, that in caſe any Melaſſes or Syrups, being the Produce of any of the Plantations not under the Dominion of His Majeſty, His Heirs or Succeſſors, ſhall be laden on board ſuch Ship or Veſſel, the ſame ſhall (the Danger of the Seas and Enemies excepted) be brought, without Fraud or wilful Diminution, by the ſaid Ship or Veſſel, to ſome of His Majeſty's Colonies or Plantations in America, or to ſome Port in Great-Britain; and the ſaid Act may, by ſuch Practices, be rendered ineffectual to anſwer the Purpoſes thereby intended; for Remedy whereof, be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That from and after the Tenth Day of October, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty-five, the ſaid Bond, with the Condition in the ſaid recited Act mentioned, ſhall be given for every Ship or Veſſel that ſhall ſet Sail from any Britiſh Colony or Plantation in America, whether any Goods ſhall be there laden on Board any ſuch Ship or Veſſel, or not; and if any Ship or Veſſel, not having taken any Goods on Board as aforeſaid, ſhall ſet Sail, or proceed from any Britiſh Colony or Plantation in America, before ſuch Bond ſhall be given, ſuch Ship or Veſſel, with her Furniture, ſhall be forfeited, and ſhall and may be ſeized and proſecuted in the Manner directed by the ſaid recited Act of Parliament; any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

And whereas in and by the ſaid recited Act, made in the laſt Seſſion of Parliament, it is, amongſt other Things, enacted, That a Sufferance and Cocket ſhall be taken from the Officers of the Cuſtoms for all Goods, Wares, and Merchandizes, of any Kind whatſoever, which ſhall be laden on Board any Ship or Veſſel in any Britiſh Colony or Plantation in America, to be carried from thence to any other Colony or Plantation, as in the ſaid Act is expreſſed: And whereas the requiring ſuch Sufferances and Cockets for Goods of the Growth or Produce of the ſaid Colonies, which are not liable to any Duty by any Act of Parliament made in Great-Britain, nor prohibited to be carried from the ſaid Colonies, may lay an unneceſſary Reſtraint upon the Trade and Correſpondence of His Majeſty's American Subjects, when ſuch Goods are carried merely for the Uſe and Suſtenance of the ſaid Colonies, in Boats or ſmall Veſſels without Decks, which do not go to open Sea; for the Eaſe therefore of His Majeſty's American Subjects in this Particular, be it enacted, That from and after the Fifth Day of July, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty-five, the ſaid recited Act ſhall not extend, nor be conſtrued to extend, to require any Perſon to take out any Sufferance or Cocket for any Goods of the Growth, Product, or Manufacture, of the Britiſh Colonies or Plantations in America, which are not, by any Act of Parliament, made in Great-Britain, liable to any Duty either upon the Importation into, or Exportation from, the ſaid Colonies or Plantations, nor are prohibited to be exported from thence, which ſhall be laden in any Boat, Flat, Shallop, or other Veſſel without a Deck, not exceeding Twenty Tons Burthen, and ſhall be carried within any River, Lake, or other Inland Waters, within the ſaid Colonies or Plantations, and ſhall not be carried out to Sea farther than One League from the Shore; any thing in the ſaid recited Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

And whereas by the ſaid laſt recited Act, made in the laſt Seſſion of Parliament, One Moiety of all Seizures which ſhall be made at Sea by the Commanders or Officers of His Majeſty's Ships or Veſſels of War, duly authorized to make Seizures, and of the Penalties and Forfeitures recovered thereon, in any of His Majeſty's Colonies or Plantations in America, firſt deducting the Charges of Proſecutions from the groſs Produce thereof, is to be paid to him or them who ſhall ſeize, inform, or ſue for the ſame; ſubject to ſuch Diſtribution as His Majeſty, His Heirs, and Succeſſors, ſhall think fit to order and direct, by any Order or Orders of Council, or by Proclamation or Proclamations, to be made for that Purpoſe, as in and by the ſaid recited Act may more fully appear: Now to obviate any Doubts that have ariſen, or may ariſe, concerning the Conſtruction of the Words, Seizures made at Sea; it is hereby further enacted and declared by the Authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Words, Seizures made at Sea, in the ſaid recited Act of Parliament, ſhall extend, and be conſtrued to extend, to all Seizures made by the Commanders or Officers of His Majeſty's Ships or Veſſels of War, duly authorized for that Purpoſe, any where at Sea, or in or upon any River, and which ſhall not be actually made on Shore, within any Britiſh Colony or Plantation in America.

And, in order to prevent any Diſputes concerning what Fees the Officers of His Majeſty's Cuſtoms in the Britiſh Colonies or Plantations in America may be intitled to, for making Entries, or other Buſineſs done by them in the Execution of their Employments; be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That until ſuch Time as the ſame ſhall be otherwiſe ſettled by Authority of Parliament, it ſhall and may be lawful for all and every Collector, and other Officer of His Majeſty's Cuſtoms, in any Britiſh Colony or Plantation in America, appointed by any Deputation or Commiſſion from the Commiſſioners of His Majeſty's Cuſtoms in England, to demand and receive ſuch Fees as they and their Predeceſſors were intitled to demand and receive, on and before the Twenty-ninth Day of September, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty-four; provided the Fees ſo taken are not contrary to the expreſs Direction of any Act of Parliament made in Great-Britain; and in all and every Port or Place in any Britiſh Iſland in the Weſt-Indies, where no Fees have been received as aforeſaid by any Officer of the Cuſtoms, ſuch Officer ſhall, from and after the ſaid Fifth Day of July, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty-five, be intitled to the ſame Fees as have been received as aforeſaid by the like Officers, in the neareſt Port in the ſaid Iſland, before the ſaid Twenty-ninth Day of September, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty-four; and if no Fees have been received as aforeſaid by any Officer in any Port in the ſaid Iſland, ſuch Officer ſhall, from and after the ſaid Fifth Day of July, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty-five, be intitled to ſuch Fees as have been received by the like Officers in the Iſland of Barbados, before the ſaid Twenty-ninth Day of September, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty-four; and in all and every Port or Place on the Continent of America, within His Majeſty's Dominions, where no Fees have been received as aforeſaid by any Officer of the Cuſtoms, ſuch Officers ſhall, from and after the ſaid Fifth Day of July, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty-five, be intitled to the ſame Fees as have been received as aforeſaid by the like Officers, in the neareſt Port in the ſaid Colony or Plantation, on or before the ſaid Twenty-ninth Day of September, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty four; and if no Fees have been received as aforeſaid by any Officer in any Port in ſuch Colony or Plantation, ſuch Officers ſhall, from and after the Fifth Day of July, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty-five, be intitled to ſuch Fees as have been received by the like Officers in the neareſt Port within any Britiſh Colony or Plantation, on or before the ſaid Twenty-ninth Day of September, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty-four; and if no Fees have been received by any Comptroller of His Majeſty's Cuſtoms for any Port or Place within any Colony or Plantation, or if the Fees received by ſuch Comptroller before the ſaid Twenty-ninth Day of September, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty-four, have not been equal to One Third Part of the Fees received as aforeſaid by the Collector of His Majeſty's Cuſtoms within the ſame Port or Place; it ſhall, from and after the ſaid Fifth Day of July, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty-five, in every ſuch Caſe, be lawful for ſuch Comptroller of His Majeſty's Cuſtoms, to demand and receive for his Fees, for any Entry or other Buſineſs done by him in the Execution of his Employment, from any Merchant or other Perſon, a Sum equal to One Third Part of the Fees received as aforeſaid by ſuch Collector for the like Buſineſs; and every ſuch Officer ſhall have and be intitled to the ſame Remedy for Recovery of ſuch Fees, as is or has been heretofore allowed to any Collector or other Officer; any Law, Bye-Law, or other Act of Aſſembly made in the ſaid Plantations, to the contrary notwithſtanding; and if any Collector, Comptroller, or other Officer of His Majeſty's Cuſtoms in America, appointed as aforeſaid, ſhall exact, require, or receive, any other or greater Fees than ſuch as are herein before allowed to be taken, he ſhall, for the Firſt Offence, forfeit the Sum of Fifty Pounds; One Moiety of which Penalty ſhall be to His Majeſty, His Heirs, and Succeſſors, and the other Moiety to the Perſon or Perſons aggrieved thereby, who ſhall ſue for the ſame in the proper Court in ſuch Colony or Plantation; and for the Second Offence, he ſhall forfeit his Place, and be for ever after incapable of executing any Office or Employment in the Cuſtoms.

To the PRINTER.

SIR,

IT is an old obſervation, that virtue requires nothing to make her the object of univerſal admiration, but to be repreſented in her native beauty, and in a proper point of view. And degenerated as we now are from our brave anceſtors, at leaſt with reſpect to public virtues, there are yet I believe many Engliſhmen who are animated with the warmeſt ſentiments of patriotiſm, and who feel for the honour and intereſt of their country. To men of this ſtamp, therefore, it will probably give ſome pleaſure to read the following anecdote of the juſtly celebrated Andrew Marvell, which is, I believe, not very generally known. And it may poſſibly have ſome tendency to raiſe a bluſh in the cheeks of thoſe, who, though their fortunes are amply ſufficient for all the real purpoſes, and even for the elegancies of life, have yet meanneſs and baſeneſs enough to ſacrifice their own honour, and their country's intereſt, and bend the knee to an unworthy Favourite or Miniſter, for a paltry place or penſion------The Borough of Hull, in the reign of King Charles the Second, choſe Andrew Marvell for their repreſentative, from the opinion they had of his abilities and virtue, though he was then but a young gentleman, and of little or no fortune; and they maintained him in London for the ſervice of the Public. His Underſtanding, Integrity, and Spirit, were dreadful to the then infamous adminiſtration. Mr. Marvell was, indeed, much inclined to Sedition; that is, when the Miniſters were wicked, he very flatly and plainly told them that they were ſo. However, the Miniſtry being of opinion that he would be theirs for properly aſking, ſent his old ſchool-fellow, the Lord-Treaſurer Danby, to renew acquaintance with him in his garret. At parting, the Lord-Treaſurer, out of pure affection, ſlipped into his hand an order upon the Treaſury for a thouſand pounds, and then ſtepped away to his chariot. Mr. Marvell looking at the paper, called after the Treaſurer, "My Lord, I requeſt another moment." Danby mounted again to Mr. Marvell's apartment, and Jack the ſervant-boy was called. "Jack, Child, what had I for dinner yeſterday?" "Don't you remember, Sir, you had the little ſhoulder of mutton you ordered me to bring from a woman in the market?" "Very right, Child, what have I for dinner to day?" "Don't you know, Sir, that you bid me lay by the blade-bone to broil?" "Tis ſo, Child, very right, go away."----"My Lord, added Mr. Marvell, addreſſing himſelf to the Treaſurer, do you hear that? Andrew's dinner is provided; there is your piece of paper, I want it not. I know the ſort of kindneſs intended. I live here to ſerve my conſtituents: The Miniſtry may ſeek men for their purpoſe, I am not one."----This ſtory needs no comment.----Such Mr. Printer, was the Spirit which actuated thoſe illuſtrious Patriots, who laid the Baſis of that Liberty which was confirmed at the revolution; and it is abſurd to ſuppoſe, without ſome Portion of the ſame Spirit, that Liberty can be tranſmitted to our Poſterity. I am, your humble ſervant,

BERLIN, May 21.

IN our Gazette of this day, there is an advertiſement from the War-office, ſetting forth, that as the court of Saxony has thought proper by an edict to prohibit the bringing into that country any of the manufactures of Pruſſia and Brandenburgh; his Majeſty finds himſelf obliged, in order to encourage the manufactures of his dominions, to prohibit the introduction and uſe of Saxon commodities; on which account an edict has been publiſhed, which forbids the bringing from Saxony any ſilks, cottons, linen or woollen goods, gold and ſilver lace, ſtockings, hats, gloves, china, or manufactures of copper, iron, or ſteel, &c. on pain of confiſcation, and other penalties. Nevertheleſs, there is an exception from this general prohibition, ſo far as relates to the wholeſale trade carried on in thoſe manufactures at the fairs of Frankfort upon the Oder, and thoſe for which our merchants have commiſſions from abroad.

Benderbucher, in the Perſian Gulph, Feb. 12. We are at the eve of hearing of the ſucceſs of the Enterprizes of Kerim Kan, Maſter of Perſia, againſt Mirmana. Two or three Kans, each with a body of troops, are arrived in our neighbourhood, waiting only for the junction of the Grand Army, commanded by Kerim Kan in perſon. The latter, it is ſaid, will repair hither after the feaſt of Ramazan.

Leghorn, May 13. They write from Corſica, that the Commander in chief of the French troops in that iſland had lately a long conference with Paoli, who not only behaved with great politeneſs towards him, but likewiſe expreſſed a very great regard for the French, and that he ſhould be ready to oblige them on every occaſion. Accordingly, as ſoon as they parted, Paoli gave orders publickly to the Corſicans, to pay proper reſpect to the French, to let them take the diverſion of hunting in the neighbourhood where their troops are in garriſon, to receive their money, and to hold markets upon certain days for their conveniency. Paoli has taken from a church in Corſica, within the diſtrict where he commands, ſeveral gold and ſilver images, plate, &c. to the amount of a million and a half of livres, which he cauſed to be coined into money, with the arms of the iſland, which paſſes very currently among the French troops, greatly to the prejudice, as well as to the diſſatisfaction of the Genoeſe.

L'Orient, May 8. The Duke de Praſlin Indiaman, ſailed from hence the beginning of laſt year for the Iſle of France, with a machine on board for making the ſea-water freſh and drinkable, according to the method invented by Mr. Poiſſonnier. The ſhip was five months upon her voyage, and would have been in want of water but for this reſourſe, which proved very ſucceſsful, and ſupplied them with 60 barrels of ſweet water, of which they drank for near two months, without the leaſt bad effect; which is a proof of the great utility of the diſcovery. This account was brought by the Ajax Indiaman, which arrived here the 6th inſtant.

LONDON.

June 6. On Tueſday laſt, and not before, the fine clock, beſpoke for his Majeſty of Mr. Pinchbeck, and executed by Mr. Norton, of St. John-Street, was carried by Meſſrs. Pinchbeck and Norton to the Queen's houſe, where it met with his Majeſty's approbation, who ordered the ingenious maker to be generouſly rewarded. This clock has four faces, the firſt and principal of which ſhews true and apparent time, with the riſing and ſetting of the ſun every day in the year, by a moving horizon, which conſequently ſhews the lengthening and ſhortening of the days; it likewiſe ſhews the time of the day in ſeveral parts of the earth. The ſecond front has a ſolar ſyſtem, which ſhews the motion of the planets in their orbits, according to Copernicus. The third ſhews the age and different phaſes of the moon, with the time of the tides at 32 different ſea-ports. The fourth and laſt, by a curious retrogade motion in a ſpiral, ſhews every day of the month and year, and likewiſe the months and days of the week, with emblems, &c. The Calculations and numbers for the wheels for the ſolar ſyſtem were given by that great aſtronomer Dr. Bevis; and the deſigns for all the dial plates, with the numbers and calculation, and mode of performing, the moon and tides, by the ingenious Mr. Ferguſon.

June 8. One day laſt week a remarkable inſtance happened at Maidenſgrave, Wansford, five miles from hence: A man and his wife, whoſe buſineſs calls them abroad, left a girl to take care of two children; the eldeſt, who was about three years old, ſtrayed from the door, and though the greateſt diligence was uſed, could not be diſcovered that night; but the next morning was found in a wood about three miles from its home, by two men. When found there were four dogs accompanying him, one of whom was laid down, and the child's head reſted on it as a pillow, and the others ſat round to protect him, who were ſo very fierce, that one of the men was forced to uſe them with ſeverity, while the other man took up the child, which was in perfect health, to carry it home.

By a letter from Plymouth we have the following account: "A few days ago arrived the Boſcawen Indiaman from Bengal, with a detachment, and the colours of his Majeſty's 84th regiment, under the command of Major Richard Sherlock. This regiment landed at Madraſs the 26th of October 1759, took the field the 12th of November following, and continued on ſervice till the reduction of Pondicherry in January 1761: The Auguſt following they were ordered to Bengal, on account of a war likely to happen there, and a detachment of 244 private, and 21 officers of the regiment, were on board the Pattaſalam, which was loſt about 48 hours after ſhe ſailed for that place; this detachment periſhed except ſeven officers, one ſergeant, and a captain's lady, who took to the long boat, and were five days in it, without proviſions or water, when the firſt land they made was in the kingdom of Orixa, where they were made priſoners, and remained ſo, being only fed on rice and water, till the December following, when they were ſent to Fort William, in the greateſt diſtreſs. Two of theſe gentlemen are now ſafe arrived, after a long voyage from India, in the Boſcawen, which is Major Sherlock and Lieutenant Mackarell.

"Colonel Coote, who has gained ſo much honour to his country, and done ſo many ſignal ſervices to the India Company, recruited the regiment in the beſt manner, and in July 1763, they took the field under the command of Major Adams, who had been an Aid de Camp to Col. Coote through the war on the Coaſt of Coromandel, and who, with the aſſiſtance of the Company's troops, after many battles and ſieges, drove the troops of Caſſim Ali Cawn (the late Nabob of Bengal) over the banks of the Camnaſſara, upwards of 700 miles from the Company's ſettlements at Calcutta; but he unfortunately died when he was to return to England. On the death of Major Adams the command devolved to Major Sherlock, who, having received his Majeſty's orders to embark for England, diſtributed the ſmall remains of the regiment in a moſt advantageous manner. It appears ſince this battalion left England, which was in April 1759 to January 1764, they buried 34 commiſſioned officers, one ſurgeon, four mates, and upwards of 1300 men."

On Tueſday the 4th inſtant Major Sherlock, of his Majeſty's 84th regiment, delivered to the Earl of Halifax, one of his Majeſty's Secretaries of State, a letter directed in Perſian characters from Meer Jaffier Cawn, the preſent Nabob, to his Majeſty.

The Officers for ſeveral other Places, not yet appointed.

Monday arrived here Capt. Pitt, in a Schooner from Quebec, but laſt from Halifax; by whom we learn that his Majeſty's Ship Thunderer, of 74 Guns, was arrived at Halifax from Ireland, with 500 Troops, to relieve thoſe which have been in Nova-Scotia ſeveral Years.

We hear the Honourable Judge Spry, now at Halifax, is to be the Supreme Judge of the Court of Vice-Admiralty for the Northern Diſtrict, and to reſide in Boſton.

We hear that the Veſſels employed in the Whale Fiſhery from this and the neighbouring Maritime Towns, amounting to near 100 Sail, have been very ſucceſsful this Seaſon in the Gulph of St. Lawrence, and Streights of Belleiſle; having, it is ſaid, already made upwards of 9000 Barrels of Oil.

Laſt Week a Fiſhing-Smack, belonging to Philadelphia, brought in here for Sale a great Number of Tautaug, caught coming down the Sound: This being a ſort of Fiſh very ſcarce in this Place, a Number of Gentlemen purchaſed a Quantity of them alive, and turned them over into the Harbour, that they may propagate their Species here; by which Means the Town may in Time be as plentifully ſupplied with them as we are with almoſt every other kind of Fiſh---It is hoped that if any Perſon ſhould catch ſome of theſe Fiſh ſtraggling, they would return them to their Element, to promote the ſame good Deſign, rather than gratify their preſent Appetite.

BOSTON, Auguſt 12.

Yeſterday afternoon Capt. Haſlam arrived here, in a brig, in 43 days from Briſtol:----He informs, that the day he ſailed from thence he was told, by ſeveral merchants of credit, that the Right Honourable Mr. PITT was again re-inſtated in the miniſtry, to the general ſatisfaction of the nation; but that, previous to his acceptance of the important truſt, he deſired that his Majeſty would renew his alliance with the King of Pruſſia; that the Cyder Act ſhould be repealed; and that the Parliament ſhould be diſſolved, and a new one called. The two former of which it was ſaid were to be complied with, but the latter refuſed.

It is ſaid ſeveral other changes in the miniſtry had alſo taken place.

From a Briſtol paper, of the 22d of June, we have the following advices, viz.

LONDON, June 17.

THE preſent miniſtry are ſaid to be holding a grand conference in the country.

June 18. The report of an intended change in the miniſtry is revived, and ſome circumſtances are mentioned, which make it ſeem to be not wholly deſtitute of foundation.

June 20. On Tueſday the Right Honourable Mr. PITT came to town from Hayes, and yeſterday had a private conference with his Majeſty for ſome time.

His Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland is expected in town to-morrow, on affairs of great importance; and a report prevails, that his highneſs will be ſpeedily inveſted with a very important poſt.

It is confidently reported, that Lord Temple will be appointed Firſt Lord of the Treaſury, and Chancellor of the Exchequer.

The Right Hon. Mr. Pitt, and the Right Hon. Mr. Charles Townſhend, Secretaries of State.

And the Right Hon. Mr. Grenville will be made Pay-Maſter General, and created a Peer.

A royal and noble company will ſhortly pay a viſit to Lord Temple, at Stowe.

A ring, we hear, is making for a perſon of great faſhion, which, inſtead of a ſtone, will hold a watch, of ſuch exquiſite workmanſhip, as never has been before ſeen in this kingdom.

It is ſaid the French have at preſent upwards of 350 veſſels carrying on a cod fiſhery, on the Banks of Newfoundland.

The Eaſt-India Company have received advice, by their ſhip the Devonſhire, which arrived yeſterday from Bengal, that a compleat victory has been gained by Major Munroe over Coſſim Ali-Cawn, whoſe army conſiſted of 50,000 men, of which 6000 were ſlain on the field of battle, the reſt fled with the greateſt precipitation, leaving their whole camp ſtanding, which fell into the hands of the Engliſh, together with a vaſt treaſure, and 150 pieces of cannon. The loſs on our ſide was very inconſiderable.

A very great perſonage, we are well aſſured, expreſſed his warmeſt approbation at court, on Tueſday laſt, when he ſaw ſuch numbers of the firſt nobility dreſt in the manufactures of their country; making uſe of this remarkable expreſſion at the ſame time, "That every prince ſhould judge of the regard which his "courtiers entertain for him, by the aſſiduity which they manifeſted about the intereſt of his people."

They write from Gibraltar, that advice had been received there of the famous pyratical Rover Reis Hamet Lewis of Sallee having periſhed in a late ſtorm in the Mediterranean.

The St. Padre, eſteemed the largeſt ſhip in the whole Spaniſh navy, is now building at the Havannah, and will be launched in Auguſt next.

Extract of a letter from Ivelcheſter, May 9.

"Yeſterday Mary Norwood, for poiſoning her huſband, Joſeph Norwood, of Axbridge, in this county, was burnt here, purſuant to her ſentence, in the preſence of about 8000 ſpectators. She was brought out of the priſon about three o'clock in the afternoon, bare-foot: She was covered with a tarred cloth, made like a ſhift, a tarred bonnet on her head, and her legs, feet and arms, had tar on them: The heat of the weather melting the tar on the bonnet, it ran over her face, ſo that ſhe made a ſhocking appearance: She was put on a hurdle, and drawn on a ſledge to the place of execution, which was very near the gallows. After ſpending ſome time in prayer, and ſinging a hymn, the executioner placed her on a tar-barrel, about three feet high; a rope (which ran in a pulley through the ſtake) was fixed about her neck, ſhe herſelf placing it properly with her hands; this rope being drawn extreme tight with the pulley, the tar-barrel was then puſhed away, and three irons were faſtened round her body (to confine it to the ſtake, that it might not drop when the rope ſhould be burnt) as ſoon as this was done, the fire was immediately kindled, but in all probability ſhe was quite dead before it reached her, as the executioner pulled her body ſeveral times whilſt the irons were fixing, which was about five minutes. There being a great quantity of tar, and the wood in the pile being quite dry, the fire burnt with amazing fury; notwithſtanding which, great part of her could be diſcovered for near half an hour. Nothing could be more ſhocking than to behold, after her bowels fell out, the fire flaming between her ribs, and iſſuing out at her ears, mouth, eye-holes, &c. In ſhort, it was ſo terrible a ſight, that great numbers turned their backs and ſcreamed, not being able to look at it."

Arrived at Briſtol, the Indian King, Baker, from Boſton; the Tryal, Young; and the Diſappointment, --------, from New-England; the Minerva, Clark, from New-York.

Compleat wet and dry docks, magazines, and a naval arſenal, are this ſummer to be built at Halifax, in Nova-Scotia.

BOSTON, Auguſt 12.

We hear from Providenee, in the Colony of Rhode-Iſland, that the Freemen of that Town being lately called, to confer upon ſuch Meaſures as ſhould appear to them neceſſary relating to the Stamp Act, whereby the Liberties, the darling Boaſt of the North-American Subject, which were once deemed indefeaſible, muſt be greatly abridged, if not totally annihilated; they accordingly met for the aforeſaid Purpoſe, and unanimouſly appointed a Committee to prepare Inſtructions ſuitable to be given their Repreſentatives, for their Conduct in the next General Aſſembly, on this truly alarming Occaſion; and that they are to be laid before the Town, for their Approbation, on the 13th of this Inſtant, at which Time thoſe Sons of Liberty are to convene again, for the nobleſt of all Cauſes, their Country's Good.---A Proceeding this, that conveys the moſt lively Idea of Principles nobly patriotic, and which will, it is to be wiſhed, ſerve as an Example to other Towns to exert themſelves at this Criſis, and to remind them, that they are entitled to all the Privileges of Britiſh Subjects, as long as they are denominated ſuch, and to bear in Abhorrence the Name without the Subſtance.

NEW-YORK, Auguſt 15.

Extract of a Letter, &c.

"A ſhocking and melancholy affair happened at Albany on Saturday the 3d inſt. about half after 7 o'clock in the morning, by Joſeph White, merchant, committing the act of ſuicide; he did it with a piſtol, loaded with two balls, which he diſcharged under his right ear.----The jury brought him in a Lunatick: The following is a copy of a paper he left upon his counter, viz.

"My Boy's trunk and clothes is up ſtairs, which pleaſe to let him have, and beg every body to be kind to him, for he has been very good to me.-------

"God put it in my power to get over all this paſt illneſs on Sunday the 21ſt of this inſt. July, by a breaking out all over my body; but I immediately cut off my hair cloſe, which gave me cold, and all ſtruck in again, and cauſed me to be worſe than ever, and ſeeing no view but that of being miſerable, has induced me to take this reſolution.

Albany, Tueſday, near 3 o'clock, P. M. I have taken a reſolution to make away with my life, which is a vaſt burden and pain to me, having not known one moment's reſt for upwards of 14 months paſt; therefore hoping forgiveneſs of the act, and all my former ſins, through the merits of Jeſus Chriſt, and hopes to find more eaſe and comfort in the next world than I have in this; ſo farewel to this world, and all friends,----and adieu to this world."

Auguſt 19. Tueſday laſt Captain Young arrived here from Curacoa in 22 Days: The 28th of July, in Lat. 24, Lon. 69, 30, he ſpoke with a Brig from South-Carolina for Barbados, Robert Riddel, Maſter, who a few Days before, off Watling's-Iſland, met with a moſt violent Gale of Wind, which continued 36 Hours, in which he loſt his Boat, moſt of his Water, and had his Gunwale ſtove in from the Main to the Fore-Chains, and received conſiderable other Damage; but was very tight when Captain Young left him.

The 18th of July, in Lat. 32, Lon. 53, Captain Finglaſs ſpoke with the Brig Emy, Simon Smith, Maſter, from Rhode-Iſland, for Surrinam, all well on board.

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman at New-Orleans, dated June 19, 1765.

---"Upon my Arrival here, I was very much ſurpriſed to ſee Lieutenant Roſs; he was obliged to leave the Ilinois, and come down the Miſſiſippi to this Place, not being able to ſtay there any longer in Safety. A few Days ago arrived Lieutenant Fraſer, from the Ilinois; he was ſent there by General Gage, by Way of Fort Pitt, he got to the Ilinois without much Difficulty, five Days before Lieutenant Roſs left it; but upon his Arrival there his Men were taken Priſoners by the Indians, and badly treated, both whipt and ſtript; the Indians alſo threatned to kill them, if they would not find their Officer, who lay concealed; upon Lieutenant Fraſer's hearing this he gave himſelf up to them, determined to ſhare the ſame Fate with his Men, or to get them off; however, the Manner of his giving himſelf up ſtruck the Indians very much, and, with the Intereſt of Pondiac, he got himſelf and Men back again; but upon the Arrival of the Indian Chief that was here laſt Winter, who is a great Villain (with a white Woman to his Wife) who told the Indians many Lies, they again ſeized upon the Men, but Pondiac obliged them to give the Men back: Some Days after this Lieutenant Fraſer got Leave of Pondiac to let his Men go down the River for Mobille; he ſent them off, and they arrived here ſafe, but he determined to ſtay, and Pondiac promiſed to protect him till he heard News of Mr. Croghan, who he left at Fort Pitt, and was to follow him in 12 Days: He ſent Indians to meet Mr. Croghan, and after they had waited a long Time for him at the Mouth of the Wabache, they returned without hearing any Thing of him, and ſeemed very much diſſatisfied. Mr. Fraſer being continually in Danger, and ſeveral Attempts made to aſſaſſinate him, he was adviſed to go away, which he did in a Batteaux: He ſays Pondiac is a very clever Fellow, and had it not been for him he would never have got away alive; he waited on him to the Boat, and wiſhed him a good Voyage: He met Meſſrs. Laquatray and Sennott about 11 Leagues from the Ilinois: Meſſieurs Roſs and Fraſer both agree, that it is the Indians, and not the French, that command at the Ilinois, for the Indians do as they pleaſe; Mr. Fraſer ſays many of the French, and particularly the Traders, are a Pack of great Villains, and do every thing in their Power to ſet the Indians upon us. Major Farmer ſets off in a Day or two for the Ilinois. There have been many Deſertions from the 34th Regiment; but theſe that remain do not ſeem to be diſpirited, or afraid of the Expedition. ☞ You may be aſſured the Spaniards will be in Poſſeſſion of this Place by September next."---

Captain Cook, in a Sloop from Maryland for Bermuda, foundered at Sea about 10 Days ſince; the Crew took to their Boat, and were taken up by a Sloop that arrived here laſt Friday Night from Virginia.

QUEBEC, July 4.

To the PRINTERS.

GENTLEMEN,

YOU are deſired, by ſeveral of your Subſcribers, to publiſh the following Extract of a Letter, and a Petition from the Merchants in London, to the Board of Trade.

Extract of a Letter from London, dated April 20, 1765.

I Have, as a Matter that appears to me of the utmoſt Conſequence to each Individual of his Majeſty's Subjects, devoted my whole Time ever ſince the Firſt Inſtant, being the Day I became poſſeſſed of ſufficient Authority whereupon to found an Application to the Board of Trade, to the framing, and procuring Hands to a Petition relative to the late baſe, cowardly and villainous intended Aſſaſſination of my Friend Mr. Thomas Walker, of Montreal, in whoſe Perſon Civil Government has been ſtabbed, and Military Cruelty and Deſpotiſm attempted wantonly and triumphantly to be eſtabliſhed in its Stead. I have had for my Coadjutor herein my worthy Friend ----, who (if the Gentlemen on your Side approve our Conduct) hath, on this Occaſion, ſuperior Merit to myſelf. You have the Petition incloſed, with ſuch Names annexed, as do it and themſelves Honour; the preſent Lord Mayor, four Aldermen, four Members of Parliament, and the moſt reſpectable Names in the Trade to North-America, being amongſt the Number, and abundantly more might have been procured if they had been ſolicited for, this not being a Party Matter, but what affects every Briton, whoſe Life and Property is equally liable to the like Inſult. Our View was to procure Names well known and reſpected at the Board of Trade, where we now appear with the fulleſt Credit: I muſt not omit to mention Mr. Vialars, as a Gentleman deeply intereſted in the Canada Trade, was applied to, but refuſed to ſign this Petition; perhaps People on your Side may be able to diſcover the Cauſe, tho' it eſcapes my Penetration. It was preſented Yeſterday, but following ſo cloſe on Lord Biron's Trial, and the Bill depending in Parliament, relative to the Quartering Soldiers in private Houſes in America, being to be read a ſecond Time in the Houſe, Lord Hillſborough, Firſt Lord of Trade, was prevented attending; but we are to go up again on Monday, and if the moſt liberal Uſe of my Purſe, joined to the beſt Exertion of my other Abilities, can effect it, the Perpetrators of that bloody and inhuman Scene ſhall meet their Deſerts, and the Civil Rights of the People be effectually ſecured from the further Inſults of Military Barbarity. In regard to the Bill juſt mentioned, it has rouſed the Spirit of the Nation, and is ſo warmly oppoſed by the beſt Friends of his Majeſty's Perſon, Family and Government, that the Miniſtry ſeem diſpoſed to lay aſide ſo hateful a Meaſure, by ſubſtituting one more conſtitutional, for the Preſervation of the Troops on a March."

[For Want of Room we are obliged to defer the Merchants Petition to the Board of Trade, till next Week.]

WILMINGTON (North Carolina) June 12.

Extract of a letter from Weſt Florida.

"After groaning under the multiplied tyrannies of a military government for 13 months, from the diſciples of the ſchool of the Havannah, we were in hopes, upon the arrival of his Excellency Governor Johnſtone, to have the advantages of the conſtitution under which we were born, according to the promiſe of his Majeſty's proclamation: But ſo far from it, that the Governor is diveſted of all authority, and the commiſſions he has brought with him are a mere farce of ſtate; the ſame cruelties have been exerciſed ſince as before his arrival; many of the inhabitants have been ſeized and confined by the ſoldiers, and even the Governor's own ſervant has been tried in his abſence by a court martial, and condemned to 400 laſhes; ſo that every thing is again reverted to the ſame degree of deſpotiſm. The conſtable ſerving a warrant, has been half murdered on the parade. A ſoldier charged with theft, has been refuſed to the civil authority; and this, it is ſaid, ariſes from a letter which the commanding officer has received from the General, who is reported to have wrote that no perſon whatſoever, except himſelf, and the officers of the army, have any authority over the military, who are quite independent of Governor, Council, Aſſembly, or any civil authority on the continent of America, and that Penſacola and Mobille are to be regarded as military garriſons. This extraordinary change, added to a total excluſion of all Spaniſh commerce by his Majeſty's ſhips, has entirely knocked up this infant colony, and blaſted all our ſanguine hopes; ſo that, contrary to what I wrote in my former letter, I would adviſe no man to come here, who values his freedom, until thoſe points are ſettled."

WHITEHALL, June 18.

Extract of a Letter from Major Hector Munro, Commander in Chief of his Majeſty's and the Eaſt-India Company Troops in Bengal, to the Earl of Sandwich, dated at the Camp at Buxar, the 26th of October, 1764, received the 15th Inſtant.

I HAVE the Pleaſure to acquaint your Lordſhip, that his Majeſty's Troops, and the India Company's, which I have the Honour to command, gained a complete Victory over the King and Vizier of Hindoſton, the 23d of this Month. Their Army conſiſted of 50,000 Men at leaſt. Incloſed I have the Honour to ſend your Lordſhip a Return of ours: They had 6000 Men killed on the Field of Battle; and we took 130 Pieces of Cannon from them, beſides ſeveral Stores of different Kinds. On the 22d I encamped ſo near the Enemy's Encampment, as to be juſt out of the Range of their Shot. The Morning of the Action, at Day-light, I went out, with ſome of the principal Officers, to reconnoitre their Situation, intending to attack them the following Day; but finding their whole Army under Arms, returned to Camp; ordered in our advanced Poſts and grand Guards; the Drums to beat to Arms; and in leſs than 20 Minutes after the Line of Battle was formed, having made my Diſpoſition for it the Day before. They began to cannonade us at Nine o'Clock in the Morning, and Half an Hour after the Action became general: We had a Moraſs in our Front, which prevented our moving forward for ſome Time, by which Means the Number of Cannon they had, and which were well levelled, and equally well diſpoſed of, galled us very much. I was forced to order a Battalion of Seapoys, with one Gun, from the Right of the firſt Line, to move forward to ſilence one of the Batteries that played upon the Flank; and obliged to ſupport it by another Battalion from the ſecond Line, which had the deſired Effect. I then ordered both the Lines to face to the Right, and keep marching, in order to clear the Left Wing of the Moraſs; and when done, face to our former Front, the Right Wing wheeling up to the Left, to clear a Tope, or ſmall Wood, that was upon our Right; then the firſt Line moved forward, keeping a very briſk Cannonade. I ſent Orders to Major Pemble, who commanded the ſecond Line, to face to the Right about, and follow the firſt; but that Officer ſaw the Propriety of that Movement ſo ſoon, that he began to put it in Execution before he received my Orders. Immediately after both Lines puſhed forward with ſo much Ardour and Reſolution, at which Time the Small-arms began, that the Enemy ſoon after began to give Way; and five Minutes before Twelve their whole Army was put to Flight.

Give me Leave, my Lord, to intreat your Lordſhip may be pleaſed to acquaint his Majeſty with the gallant and brave Behaviour of the Troops in general: And I beg Leave, particularly to recommend Captain Charles Gordon, of the 94th Regiment, my Aid-de-Camp, for his brave and ſpirited Behaviour. Your Lordſhip will excuſe me, if at the ſame Time I wiſh Major Pemble might be recommended to the Chairman and Court of Directors, for his Bravery and good Conduct. Both theſe Officers had their Horſes ſhot under them in the Action. I do myſelf the Honour to incloſe to your Lordſhip a Liſt of our killed, wounded and miſſing. I have the Honour to be, &c.

HECTOR MUNRO.

BOSTON, Auguſt 19.

Laſt Wedneſday Morning, to the ſurprize and joy of the Public, was exhibited on the Great Trees in the High-ſtreet of this Town, the Effigies of A DISTRIBUTOR OF THE STAMPS, pendant, behind whom hung a Boot newly ſoaled with a GREENVILLE Soal, out of which proceeded the Devil. This Spectacle continued the whole Day without the leaſt Oppoſition, tho' viſited by Multitudes.---About Evening a Number of reputable People aſſembled, cut down the ſaid Effigies, placed it on a Bier, and covering it with a Sheet, they proceeded in a regular and ſolemn Manner amidſt the Acclamations of the Populace thro' the Town, till they arrived at the Court-Houſe, which, after a ſhort Pauſe, they paſſed, and proceeding down King-ſtreet, ſoon reached a certain Edifice then building for the Reception of Stamps, which they quickly levelled with the Ground it ſtood on, and with the wooden Remains thereof, marched to Fort-Hill, where kindling a noble Fire therewith, they made a Burnt-offering of the Effigies for thoſe Sins of the People which had cauſed ſuch heavy Judgments as the STAMP ACT, &c. to be laid upon them.---Unfortunately for the Gentleman (for ſo I muſt now call him, he having the next Day honourably reſigned that invidious Employment) who was to have been the Diſtributor of Stamps, his Houſe ſtood near the aforeſaid Hill, and by that Means it received from the Populace ſome ſmall Inſults, ſuch as breaking a few Panes of Glaſs in the Windows of his Kitchen, as they paſſed his Houſe, which would have ended there, had not ſome Indiſcretions, to ſay the leaſt, been committed by his Friends within, which ſo enraged the People, that they were not to be reſtrained, tho' hitherto no Violence had been offered to any Perſon, and the utmoſt Decorum had been preſerved. But it is remarkable, tho' they entered the lower Part of the Houſe in Multitudes, yet the Damage done to it was not ſo great as might have been expected, and not one thing miſſing. Next Day the Reſignation before mentioned taking Place, the Minds of the People were much ſatisfied; but there being a Rumour that a certain honourable Gentleman in high Poſts, had forwarded the Stamp Act, by recommending it as an eaſy Method of gulling the People of their Liberty and Property; many of the Inhabitants again aſſembled in the Evening, and paying their Thanks to the Gentleman who reſigned, by Huzza's, &c. they proceeded to the honourable Gentleman's Houſe aforeſaid, in order to enquire about the Truth of that Rumour; but not finding him at Home, and being aſſured by ſome reputable Gentlemen there was no foundation for the Report, they quietly diſperſed; and GOD grant they may never have Occaſion to meet again.

The Public is aſſured, from Authority, that the Hon. Gentleman, who on Thurſday laſt reſigned the Employment of Diſtributor of Stamps, has wrote Home to the Lords Commiſſioners, &c.---That he cannot execute the Stamp-Act, and that it is his Opinion it will be impracticable for any other Perſon to do it.

COPY of the Inſtructions, given by the Town of PROVIDENCE, on the 13th of Auguſt, 1765, to their Deputies in General Aſſembly.

"AS a full and free enjoyment of Britiſh liberty, and of our particular rights as coloniſts, long ſince preciſely known and aſcertained, by uninterrupted practice and uſage, from the firſt ſettlement of this country down to this time, is of unſpeakable value, and ſtrenuouſly to be contended for by the dutiful ſubjects of the beſt frame of government in the world, any attempt to deprive them thereof muſt be very alarming, and ought to be oppoſed, although in a decent manner, yet with the utmoſt firmneſs.

"We conceive that ſome late reſolutions of the Parliament of Great-Britain, for taxing us without our own conſent, have a tendency to diveſt us of our moſt valuable privileges as Engliſhmen; and that the meaſures adopted by the Miniſtry and the Parliament, in this behalf, if carried into execution, will be a manifeſt infraction of our inherent rights, as members of the Britiſh government, and unſpeakably injurious in the preſent diſtreſſed and involved ſtate of the colony.

"The Miniſtry, in juſtification of this encroachment upon the inconteſtible rights of his Majeſty's liege ſubjects in theſe parts of the world, have pretended that the colonies are repreſented in Parliament by the Britiſh members: The contrary is ſo evident, that a bare denial of the poſition is ſufficient to refute it.

"The refuſal of the Parliament to hear the humble petitions of the colonies againſt the Stamp-Act, the enlargement of the Admiralty Juriſdiction, and the Burthening Trade, we look upon as a great grievance, and directly againſt our rights as ſubjects.

"With the utmoſt concern and dread we conſider the extenſion of the powers of the Court of Admiralty; and muſt freely declare to the whole world, that we look upon our natural rights to be diminiſhed in the ſame proportion as the powers of that court are extended: And in this particular we are unhappily diſtinguiſhed from our fellow ſubjects in Britain.

"We then think it needful, in this critical conjuncture, to give unto you, who are our deputies, ſome inſtructions, to be by you obſerved in your repreſentation of us in General Aſſembly.

"In the firſt place, we recommend it to you, in the moſt expreſs manner, to uſe your utmoſt endeavours, that commiſſioners be appointed by the Aſſembly to meet with the commiſſioners from the other colonies on the continent, at New-York, on the firſt day of October next, agreeable to the propoſal and requeſt of the province of Maſſachuſetts Bay, ſignified to this colony, in order to unite in a petition to the King, for relief from the Stamp-Act, and other grievances.

"In the choice of theſe commiſſioners we are aſſured, from our knowledge of your virtue, that you will pay more attention to merit, ſkill in public buſineſs, and a zeal for the welfare of the colonies, than to any other conſideration.

"We likewiſe requeſt you to do all in your power, conſiſtent with our relation to Great-Britain, towards poſtponing the introduction of the Stamp-Act into this colony, until the colonies may have opportunity to be heard in defence of ſuch juſt rights, as they will be deprived of by an execution of it: And to this end that you endeavour to procure our eſſential rights and privileges to be aſſerted in General Aſſembly, by votes or reſolves to the following effect, viz.

"1. That the firſt adventurers, ſettlers of this his Majeſty's colony and dominion of Rhode-Iſland, and Providence plantations, brought with them, and tranſmitted to their poſterity, and all other his Majeſty's ſubjects ſince inhabited in this his Majeſty's colony, all the privileges and immunities that have at any time been held, enjoyed and poſſeſſed by the people of Great-Britain.

2. That by a charter granted by King Charles II. in the 15th year of his reign, it is declared and granted unto the governor and company of this colony, and their Succeſſors, that all and every the ſubjects of his ſaid Majeſty, his heirs and ſucceſſors, which were then planted within the ſaid colony, or which ſhould thereafter go to inhabit within the ſaid colony, and all and every of their children which had been born there, or which ſhould afterwards be born there, or on the ſea going thither, or returning from thence, ſhould have and enjoy all liberties and immunities of free and natural ſubjects within any of the dominions of his ſaid Majeſty, his heirs or ſucceſſors, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes whatſoever, as if they and every of them were born within the realm of England.

3. That his Majeſty's liege people of this colony have enjoyed the right of being governed by their own aſſembly, in the article of taxes and internal police; and that the ſame hath never been forfeited, or any other way yielded up, but hath been conſtantly recognized by the King and people of Britain.

4. That therefore his Majeſty, or his ſubſtitutes, together with the general aſſembly of this colony, have, in their repreſentative capacity, the only excluſive right to lay taxes and impoſts upon the inhabitants of this colony; and that every attempt to veſt ſuch power in any perſon or perſons whatever, other than the general aſſembly aforeſaid, is unconſtitutional, and hath a manifeſt tendency to deſtroy Britiſh, as well as American liberty.

5. That his Majeſty's liege people, the inhabitants of this colony, are not bound to yield obedience to any law or ordinance deſigned to impoſe any internal taxation whatſoever upon them, other than the laws and ordinances of the general aſſembly aforeſaid.

And inaſmuch as it hath lately been drawn into queſtion, how far the people of this his Majeſty's dominion of Rhode-Iſland have the right of being tried by juries, we earneſtly recommend it to you to procure an act to be paſſed, if it may be done, declaring that the courts of common law only, and not any court of admiralty, have, and ought to have, juriſdiction in all cauſes growing and ariſing in this colony, on account of levying or collecting any internal taxes, or of any matters relating thereto: And that ſuch proceſs and way of trial ſhall hereafter be had and uſed in ſuch matters, as have been uſual and accuſtomed time out of mind. And further, that no decree of any court of admiralty, reſpecting theſe matters, ſhall be executed in this colony.

We think that an addreſs of thanks ought to be voted, by the general aſſembly, to thoſe gentlemen who diſtinguiſhed themſelves at the laſt ſeſſion of parliament, in the defence of liberty and the colonies; in particular to Gen. Conway, and Colonel Isaac Barre.

As to other matters, not of ſuch general concernment as the foregoing, we leave their management to your prudence and judgment, in which we put the greateſt confidence.

A true copy. Witneſs, James Angell, T. Clerk.
